Israeli Plane Flights Over Egyptian Area Humiliated President Nasser

Editor's Note: Miles Gowan, author of "The Game of Nations," had been a close friend of the late Gamal Abdel Nasser since 1952, when Nasser had just become president. He visited Nasser every two weeks and held long talks with the Egyptian president in April. In this article Gowan describes some of Nasser's attitudes toward Israel, the United States and the Arab world.

By MILES GOWAN
LONDON (AP) — "Israel is a country of two million people," the late President Nasser told me recently, "and we are a country of 30 million."

"For Israel to be able to fly its airplanes over Cairo any time it wants is as humiliating to me as it would be to you if the Chinese were able to fly over Washington and your armed forces were powerless to stop them."

Humiliation Noted
Humiliation, this was the feeling which was particularly painful to Nasser, and up to the day of his death it was, the one word on his mind.
Start to understand, that is,

In September 1969, Israeli raiders struck deep into Egyptian territory and for an entire day they were in the Sinai Peninsula. A group of senior Egyptian army officers reacted by partly curbing Nasser's power, at least to the extent of inducing him to cancel a number of decisions, and to agree in the future to accept their "advice" on promotions, assignments and transfers.
Suffered Heart Attack
At the same time Nasser suffered a heart attack then described as a severe case of infarction. His doctors advised him that his life expectancy would be short unless he agreed to cut down his working day from the usual 14 hours to a reasonable four or five.

Since then Nasser had been trying to operate in a sort of chairman of the board capacity. To me whose style was tactics rather than strategy, the experience must have been terribly frustrating.
One of his closest subordinates told me a month ago, "The boss feels very uncomfortable in delegating to us, and he's right."

Feelings Mystery
By the time of the peace initiative by U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers, it appeared that Nasser had simply begun to let things slide.
The world will never know how Nasser really felt about the Rogers initiative, or the possibility of peace with Israel. To begin with, back in 1963-64, he needed Israel. With no strong feelings about Israel itself, he needed Israel as a common enemy against which to unite the Arabs.
If he could convincingly play the Americans and the Russians off against one another as merely the spokesmen for Egypt, how much more effective he would be as a spokesman for the whole Arab world.

Later, after two humiliating defeats, he developed a genuine feeling of hostility toward Israel. But then he saw the two most loudly anti-Israel countries, Syria and Iraq, virtually make peace with Israel. They made it clear by their actions that they had no intention of fighting Israel and were more interested in squabbling with each other.
Meanwhile, they accused Egypt, which had been doing all the fighting, of pacifist inclinations.
Finally, Nasser saw various Palestinian organizations behaving so self-destructively that he began to suspect that some of them were being backed by the Israelis.

Israelis Blamed
Some of Nasser's lieutenants seemed to be genuinely convinced that the Israelis were behind the recent airliner hijackings. To them the argument was not without a certain crazy logic since the Israelis were the only beneficiaries of the terrorism. We cannot know how Nasser really felt about all this, but given his ambition to go down as a great historical figure, it is easy to guess.
First, like any good politician,

Last Of Hijack Hostages Head Back To U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — The last of the hijack hostages headed back to the United States today, Sept. 30, after being held in New York, New York, since Sept. 11.

The six Americans were released from Amman via Beirut, Cyprus, aboard a Cyprus Airways flight and then switched to a TWA jetliner for their direct flight to New York.

They told newsmen they had been held in the town of Irbid in northern Jordan, a scene of fierce fighting in the September civil war.

They said they had been quartered in a school basement out of the way of the fighting and were treated well by the guerrillas.

Palestinian guerrillas turned the six over to the International Red Cross Tuesday, clearing the way for the release of seven Arab communicators imprisoned in Britain, Switzerland and West Germany. The former captives, all reported in good health, were flown from northern Jordan to Amman, Jordan's capital.

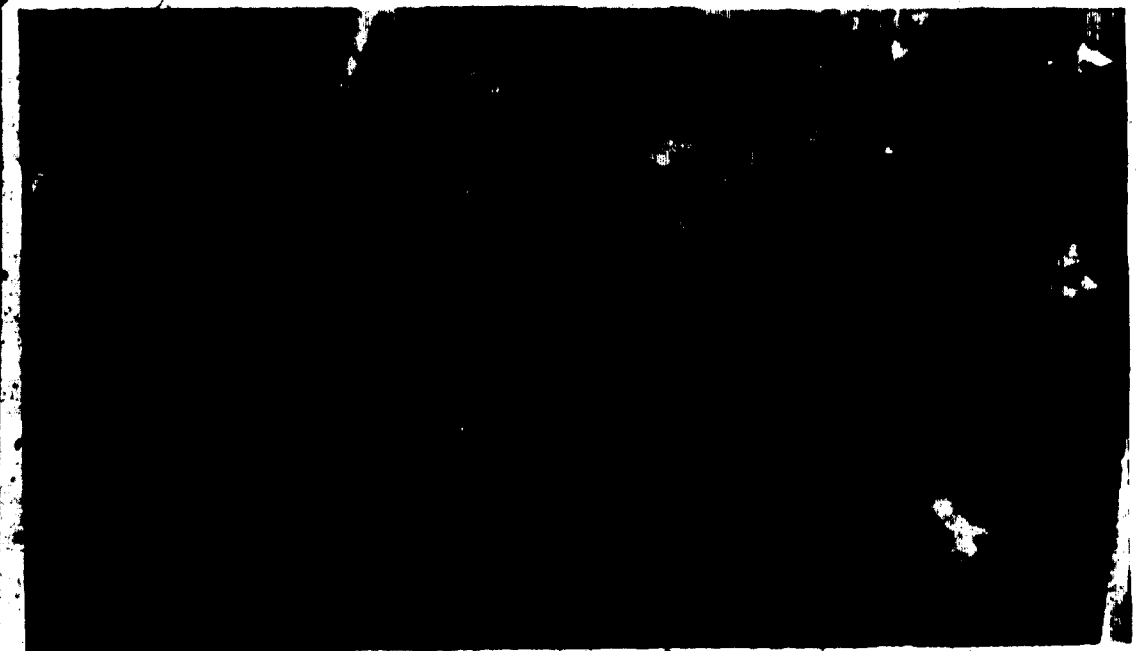

From Amman, they are en route to New York.

The British government said Monday that its three little girls, abducted in London last year, would be freed as soon as the last hostages were "safe and sound outside Jordan."

Under a three-nation accord, Britain and West Germany have promised to do likewise with the communicators held in their countries, including women guerrillas Laila Khalid, captured in Britain in an attempted airliner hijacking early this month.

Thirty-two Americans who had been held hostage in Jordan since the series of airliner hijackings by guerrillas three weeks ago flew from Amman on Sunday.

The final six were taken prisoner Sept. 6 aboard a Trans World Airlines flight from Tel Aviv to New York.

THE STREETS OF CAIRO are crowded with mourners wishing to pay last respects to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser who died Monday of a heart attack. World Leaders In Cairo To Attend Nasser Rites

CAIRO (AP) — Kings and presidents are gathering in Cairo for the funeral of Gamal Abdel Nasser, Egypt's first president, last night. The funeral will be held in the presidential palace, where the body of Nasser lay in state in the presidential palace, where the body of Nasser lay in state in the presidential palace.

Funeral Plans Set
Cairo Radio said the funeral procession will begin at the old revolutionary headquarters on Giza Island in the Nile River and will end at the mosque, five miles from Koubbeh Palace.

Israel Officials Ready To Extend Cease-Fire

POSSIBLE SUCCESSORS TO NASSER—Experts of the Middle East predict that these four men will be contenders to succeed Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who died Monday. Zakaria Mohieddin, left, is former vice president who was named to replace Nasser who resigned briefly after the 1967 war. Mohammed Sidki Soliman, second from left, is the former prime minister who headed the Aswan Dam project. Next is Lt. Gen. Mohammed Fawzi who is commander in chief of the Egyptian armed forces. At right is Ali Sabry who is head of the Arab Social Union which is Egypt's only political party. (AP Wirephoto)

U. S. Expected To Push Peace Confab Plans

By The Associated Press
Israel has declared its willingness to extend the cease-fire with Egypt and an Arab committee says calm has returned to Jordan.

Israel's foreign minister, Abba Eban, said Tuesday his government is prepared for an open-ended extension of the 90-day cease-fire with Egypt, provided the impetus for reopening peace talks comes from Cairo.

U. S. Appeal Seen
Meanwhile, the United States was expected to appeal to Israel, Jordan and Egypt to carry on the Middle East peace talks, suspended Sept. 6 after Tel Aviv charged Cairo with moving Soviet missiles into a standstill zone along the Suez Canal.

Diplomatic sources said U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost would make the appeal in a policy address today before the U.N. General Assembly.

The Israeli foreign minister, addressing a U.N. correspondence luncheon, declared: "Israel will not open fire simply because a certain date has been reached. The initiative for creating the conditions for reopening the talks must come from Cairo."

Want Missiles Removed
Israel has said the missiles must be removed for it to resume the negotiations.

Eban declined to say what effect the death of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser might have on the negotiations, which had been taking place through U.N. peace envoy Gunnar V. Jarling.

At the United Nations, Egypt's ambassador said that when he arrived to enter the peace talks Nasser told him to seek justice, not revenge.

Guarantees Sought
Mohammed Hassan el Zayyat has said that the missiles might be moved back to their original positions if his government received guarantees against an Israeli attack. Eban replied that this was questionable since El-Zayyat "gave no indication whether he was going to do anything at all to meet the complaint."

Meningitis Hits Michigan Marine

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — Marine Pvt. Roger E. Ivy, 29, of Detroit, was listed in serious condition at the Camp Pendleton Marine Base hospital Tuesday suffering from infectious meningitis.

Ivy's unit, K Company of the 2nd Infantry Training Battalion, was quarantined.

A second marine, Pvt. Richard Jones, 17, of Fresno, Calif., was listed in fair condition with a noninfectious viral form of the disease.

Weather

ESCANABA AND VICINITY—Partly cloudy and a little warmer, high today in upper 50s. Mostly fair and cool tonight with low between 30 and 40. Cloudy with chance of showers Tuesday and little change in temperature. High in lower 70s. Wind southwest to north 20 to 25 mph becoming variable tonight and southeast to south Thursday. Probabilities of precipitation: 30% today and tonight, 30% Thursday, 50% Sept. 30 and 40% and 40% Sept. 30 and 40%.

Two Jordanian Cities Shelled, Guerrillas Say

By The Associated Press
Palestine guerrillas charged that Jordan's army broke the uneasy truce today by shelling two towns in the northern part of the country.

A statement broadcast over Damascus radio said that 30 miles north of Amman, and 10 miles to the east, came under artillery fire and "the roar of the explosions can be clearly heard from the Syrian border."

The guerrillas charged the bombardment was "an open violation" of the truce agreement reached in Cairo Sunday between King Hussein and the Palestinian leader, Yasser Arafat.

The Palestinian charge came after an Arab committee named to supervise a settlement of Jordan's 11-day civil war announced in Amman that fighting had ended and calm prevailed throughout the kingdom.

Social Security Changes Analyzed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee approved today a section of a House-passed Social Security bill increasing benefits for 3.3 million widows and widowers by $700 million a year.

The action came as the panel began its closed-door consideration of the measure.

Under the law now, a widow receives a payment equal to 85% per cent of the amount her husband would have drawn as an individual. The bill would boost that to 90% per cent effective next January.

In its only other significant vote at the initial session, the committee eliminated a provision which would have increased Social Security benefits for about 60,000 disabled persons.

California Fires Under Control

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fire fighters aided by cool, moist weather drew tighter lines around burning brush and timber tracts today and California's worst ever brush fires appeared near an end.

Shortly before dark Tuesday the last of the 147-mile perimeter of the Malibu-Chatsworth-Simi blazes northwest of downtown Los Angeles was surrounded. Near San Diego, officials said a 200,000-acre fire was largely contained.

The death toll stood at 10, damage since the outbreak Friday was estimated at $175 million and almost a half-million acres were scorched. More than 400 homes and 100 other structures were destroyed.

Still burning were an 18,000-acre forest in Sequoia National Forest near Bakerfield and a 22,000-acre brush and timber fire nearby.

A 12,000-acre brush fire burned in Cuyamaca State Park in San Diego County.

Firemen continued to fight an 8,000-acre blaze in San Bernardino County, where a 21-year-old man was backed for investigation of the misdemeanor

Nixon In Belgrade For Talks With Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The first American president to visit Yugoslavia, Richard M. Nixon arrived in Belgrade today for talks with President Tito.

The Middle East situation was high on their list of topics. Tito is a leader in the so-called non-aligned world, owing allegiance to neither superpower, and was a close friend of Gamal Abdel Nasser. But he decided to forgo the Egyptian president's funeral Thursday in order to hold his scheduled talks with Nixon.

The U.S. chief executive flew here from Naples, Italy, where he readmitted the American commitment to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The President spent 45 hours in Italy, concluding his visit with conferences with NATO commanders and U.S. envoys stationed in the Mediterranean area.

He told his Naples audience that the Mediterranean should not be an American sea but one "that will belong to all people."

Standing in bright sunshine on a plaza in front of the NATO headquarters building, the President said that "in a period of instability, uncertainty and a possible lack of confidence, people need an instrument they can hang onto."

He said NATO is that instrument, and declared that the United States "remains strong and firm in its commitment" to the alliance.

Nixon asserted that NATO serves the best interests of all its member countries and said the United States is determined that the Mediterranean "will not be our sea but a sea that will belong to all people."

Nixon went to the headquarters to discuss the "general strategic posture" of the United States in the Mediterranean with the chiefs of NATO's southern command.

Four Held In Truck Explosion

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — A dynamite truck exploded on the outskirts of Springfield early today and the Missouri Highway Patrol reported the arrest of two men and two women in connection with the blast.

The truck driver, John Galt, 48, Oklahoma City, Okla., was missing and presumed dead.

The patrol reported an intercepted call from one of the women led to her arrest at a farmhouse near Ash Grove, Mo., about 10 miles from the interstate highway where the dynamite truck blew up.

The two men and the other woman walked out of the nearby woods as a highway patrol plane circled overhead and ground searchers approached.

The patrol said a witness told of seeing a shot fired at the truck as it passed an interchange on Interstate Highway 44 west of Springfield.

Identifications of those arrested and details of the charges against them were not immediately available.

ROBERT D. CARRELL, 37, a sales representative for a communications firm looks over the ruins of his $72,000 home in Chatsworth, a Los Angeles suburb. It went up in flames with 30 other homes in the fire that broke out Friday. Carrell, who bought the home 3 1/2 years ago, when he moved to California from Detroit, said all had stone roofs. Those with tile and rock roofs, he said, survived. (AP Wirephoto)

Throw-Aways Out Under Proposal

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan Senate Majority leader Robert VanderLaan has predicted quick attention at the next legislative session to efforts to ban throw-away bottles and other containers.

VanderLaan said pressure is building across the state for a law to limit use of throw-aways.

Israeli Plane Flights Over Egyptian Area Humiliated President Nasser

Editor's Note: Miles Copeland, former U. S. diplomat and author of "The Game of Nations," had been a close friend of the late Gamal Abdel Nasser since 1953, when Copeland first served as a consultant to the Egyptian government. He still visits Egypt every two months and held day-long talks with the Egyptian president in April. In this article, Copeland describes some of Nasser's attitudes toward Israel, the United States and the Arab world.

What did Nasser want? He wanted to stay in power.
Second, he wanted to use his power for the benefit of Egypt — Egypt primarily, and then the so-called Arab world. He wanted to go down in history as one who had truly benefited his country.
Aid Needed
As Nasser understood his economic situation in the 1950s, he saw that without massive aid, which could only come from the United States, he couldn't possibly achieve a growth rate to keep up with his country's birth rate.

Last Of Hijack Hostages Head Back To U.S.

ATHENS (AP) — The last six hostages held by Palestinian guerrillas in Jordan since Sept. 6 left today for New York, happy about going home.

World Leaders In Cairo To Attend Nasser Rites

CAIRO (AP) — Kings and presidents are gathering in Cairo for Gamal Abdel Nasser's state funeral Thursday, but the fallen Egyptian president's cortege will belong to the people.

The government requisitioned Cairo's major hotels to house the dignitaries, who began arriving Tuesday night. Millions of Nasser's subjects also poured into the city and its suburb, Koubbeh, where his body lay in state in the presidential palace and will be buried in a public mosque.

Funeral Plans Set
Cairo Radio said the funeral procession will begin at the old revolutionary headquarters on Gezira Island in the Nile River and will end at the mosque, five miles from Koubbah Palace.

The high-ranking foreigners — the United States will be represented by a five-man delegation headed by Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Elliot Richardson — will march across Kasr el Nil Bridge into Cairo, through Liberation Square and onto the premises of the Arab Socialist Union, by Nasser's decree the only political party in Egypt.

Mourners Tak Over
There the heads of state and official representatives will withdraw, and the mourning Arab multitudes will take the procession through areas which Nasser had developed early in his reign to symbolize change in Egyptian life.

Burial will be at Manshiet el Bakry Mosque, built with public donations two years ago. Nasser himself contributed to the project.

Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union, Nasser's most prominent patron during the last few years, was among the first to arrive. Firemen continued to fight an 8,600-acre blaze in San Bernardino County, where a 21-year-old man was booked for investigation of the misdemeanor charge of setting off firecrackers in a fire hazard area.

"The weather made all the difference," a spokesman for the Los Angeles County fire department said. "We didn't have the hot winds for the past two days and there was a marked increase in humidity."
Hot winds blasting from the desert at up to 60 miles an hour gave rise to the outbreak.
Officials said some of the fires may have been spontaneous, but during the next four days hundreds popped up throughout Southern California and some of these were blamed on arsonists.

U.S. Aids Egypt Discards Nasser

...one of the highest in the world.

"With all the help in sight," one told me, "and with all the best plans coming out of Egypt, all I can hope for is to see Egypt from slipping back into the American economic embrace." This was when, according to the American economic experts, Egypt needed some $1 billion a year in hard currency.

The U.S. State Department was offering Nasser $40 million. Nasser would only stick to the world alone, former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles used to say, "we would not aid him all the aid he wants."

Nasser was programmed to serve U.S. actions, not words. He was U. S. A.M.

The United States was then giving him aid and showing him the way to the extent to which it was influential throughout the Arab world and throughout the possibility of making a nation of himself. When his behavior was not to our liking, we ended him. When he did as we wished, we forgot him.

"It seems to me," a senior assistant told Dulles, "we should give Nasser credit for being at least as intelligent as Pavlov's dog."

And he was. Nasser began to think that he might turn to the Soviets, and we raised our offer to $100 million. Then, being somewhat smarter than Pavlov's dog, he began to sharpen his hints and actually to take some Soviet aid.

Rest Is History

The rest is history. Everyone knows how Secretary Dulles withdrew his offer of aid for the Aswan Dam and how Nasser immediately got what he needed from the Russians. What is not generally known is that once the U.S. government observed Nasser's new chumminess with the Soviets, it jumped right into the competition and began to offer greater amounts of aid than ever before.

Lebanese President Camille Chamoun was quick to spot the lesson. "Our difficulty in getting aid from the United States," he once told me, "is that we aren't very good at being anti-American. Perhaps I can get President Nasser to show me how," he said facetiously.

Chamoun knew, as any of Nasser's closest friends knew, that the Egyptian leader was never seriously anti-American, not anyhow until the U.S. government dropped out of the competition and became unreservedly pro-Arab.

Briefly Told

State Police are investigating the breaking and entering of Sodergren's Store, 300 Hill, which happened sometime between Saturday night and Monday. Mrs. Lloyd Sodergren told officers that one box of 410 shells and four boxes of rifle shells were taken. The incident is still under investigation.

ESCANABA MAYOR RONALD DEVOS, flanked on right by Paula Fleetwood, Miss Delta County, and G. W. Backhaus of Minneapolis, regional vice president, snipped the ribbon this morning to open the new F. W. Woolworth store in Delta Plaza. Other Woolworth Co. officials who joined the opening festivities were E. J. Stromenger Jr., assistant regional manager; C. N. Sale, regional personnel director; C. R. Williams, merchandise manager; A. Gerstenberg, merchandise manager; George Davis, construction superintendent and W. A. Martin, director of real estate, all of Minneapolis; L. W. Paynter, executive office representative, New York City; Deane Soltau, real estate superintendent; and Jay Johnson, store opener, both of Minneapolis, and Robert Semrow, store manager. Hundreds of shoppers rushed into the store when the main doors were opened. (Photo by David Sullivan)

Fair Premiums Over $27,000, Perras Reports

Exceeding all expectations, the 1970 Upper Peninsula State Fair was truly "bigger and better" than ever, said Manager Clifford E. Perras.

Perran money went over the $27,000 allotted for exhibitors, the first time this has happened in the Fair's history. More interest was shown in most departments, with exhibits tapping those entered in other years.

The number of saddle horse entries made it necessary to hold a two day show so all entries could compete. The best cattle department noted a considerable increase, and stall space became a problem.

According to Perras, an additional barn is definitely needed to house the animals brought to the Fair. Sheep, swine and poultry departments also showed a larger entry total, and the junior livestock show had an increase of almost 100 animals.

The draft horse pulling contest showed 10 teams over 1969. All departments in the homemaking sections, the art, hobbycraft and photography departments and horticulture section showed larger numbers of exhibits.

The gladiolus show was bigger this year, with an increase of 1233 entries. Twenty-five more exhibits were shown in the dairy products division than in 1969.

Perras said that concessionaire space was sold out earlier than ever for the Fair, and that a list of exhibitors has been compiled for 1971 contracts ... most returning after having their most successful year.

Hunt Seasons Open Thursday

Several hunting seasons will open Thursday, including firearm seasons on cottontail rabbit and snowshoe hare, goose, pheasant, sharpshinned grouse and raccoon.

Also bow and arrow seasons open on deer and bear.

Pheasants will be legal during a short Oct. 1-10 season in Delta county south and west of the Escanaba River, and in Manistowick county south of US-2. Daily bag limit is one.

Sharpshins will be available to hunters in Alger county from Oct. 1-15, with a daily bag limit of one. In Marquette county the same person dates prevail but the daily bag limit is two. Delta county is closed to sharpshin hunting this fall.

Licensed archers may take either sex of whitetail deer. They may also hunt bear, but dogs are not permitted.

Sept. 30 sees the end of the special early season on rails and jacksnipe on the shores of Little Bay de Noc.

Many hunting seasons continue, however, including those on squirrels, ruffed grouse, and woodcock.

Duck hunters must stay their hands until Oct. 7 when the regular duck season starts at 10 a. m.

For answers to questions on bag limits, shooting hours and closing dates, see the 1970 hunting rules digest or local conservation officer.

Peninsula School Bonds Approved

Israeli Flights Far Inside Egypt Disturbed Nasser

rate, one of the highest in the world.

"With all the help in sight," he once told me, "and with all our best plans coming out perfectly, all I can hope for is to keep Egypt from slipping backwards." This was when, according to American economic experts, Egypt needed some $1 billion a year in hard currency, and the U.S. State Department was offering Nasser $40 million.

"If Nasser would only stick to Egypt and leave the rest of the Arab world alone," former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles used to say, "we would give him all the aid he wants." But Nasser was programmed to observe U.S. actions, not words.

Receives U. S. Aid

The United States was then giving him aid and showing him deference to the extent to which he was influential throughout the Arab world and manifested a capability of making a nuisance of himself. When his behavior was not to our liking, we rewarded him. When he did as we wished, we forgot him.

"It seems to me," a senior associate told Dulles, "we should give Nasser credit for being at least as intelligent as Pavlov's dog."

And he was. Nasser began to hint that he might turn to the Soviets, and we raised our offer to $100 million. Then, being somewhat smarter than Pavlov's dog, he began to sharpen his hints and actually to take some Soviet aid.

Rest Is History

The rest is history. Everyone knows how Secretary Dulles withdrew his offer of aid for the Aswan Dam and how Nasser immediately got what he needed from the Russians. What is not generally known is that once the U.S. government observed Nasser's new chumminess with the Soviets, it jumped right into the competition and began to offer greater amounts of aid than ever before.

Lebanese President Camille Chamoun was quick to spot the lesson. "Our difficulty in getting aid from the United States," he once told me, "is that we aren't very good at being anti-American. Perhaps I can get President Nasser to show me how," he said facetiously.

Chamoun knew, as any of Nasser's closest friends knew, that the Egyptian leader was never seriously anti-American, not anyhow until the U.S. government dropped out of the competition and became unreservedly pro-Israel.

Ann Landers Vasectomy Legality In Illinois Confirmed

Dear Ann Landers: My husband as well as the husbands of several of my friends would like you to answer some questions about the male operation called vasectomy. We are all in our late 30s and early 40s and do not want more children.

Can you tell us why this completely foolproof operation cannot be performed in an Illinois hospital? According to someone who knows, vasectomies are done only in the office of certain physicians — after hours, behind closed doors.

Why should respectable citizens be forced to behave like criminals in order to terminate their child-bearing days? And why can males in California or New York have this surgery openly, while in Illinois they are forced to go underground? May we hear from you on this? — Past 40

Dear Past: Your letter is an excellent example of accepting an idiotic, heavy stuff which is not true.

According to Dr. James Campbell, the President of Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago, the vasectomy is a legal operation in Illinois and about half of these surgical procedures are performed in hospitals. It is such a simple operation that it can be performed in a physician's office, and about 50 per cent of them are. The entire procedure takes about 20 minutes and is relatively painless. The patient can walk away and return to work in a couple of days. And now may I add a word to correct another mistaken notion. No operation is completely foolproof. Please read the next letter.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 38 years old. My husband is 40. After five children and three miscarriages, my husband decided to have a vasectomy. That was in March. I am now in my fourth month of pregnancy. What happened? Well, it seems my spouse decided it wasn't necessary to go back and have his seminal fluid checked six weeks after the surgery.

At first I couldn't believe I was pregnant. I told my doctor it was impossible because my husband had had a vasectomy. The doctor said I must be seeing someone on the side or the operation was "unsuccessful."

When he asked if my husband had returned to his physician for a sperm count I said I didn't know but I would ask.

Well, I asked, and of course he had not. So please, Ann, tell your readers that they should not assume the operation was a success until they get the doctor's word for it. — June is Busting Out All Over

Dear June: Thank you. You told them, and in a most convincing manner.

Dear Ann Landers: I am going with a man who is separated from his wife. He pays rent for a cheap room where he hangs some of his clothes but he is never there. He stays with me from Monday through Thursday. On Friday he takes a suitcase and goes to his wife's place. She is a big slob and the car is nothing for her but he is nuts about his children.

When he moved back here on Monday we got into a big fight. I told him the next time he goes to his wife's place he can stay there because I am fed up with spending every weekend alone. He got mad and yelled, "Women are a dime a dozen but a man can never replace his children." I love him but I don't think he is treating me right. Should I insist that he make a choice and take my chances? — Gwyn Eves

Dear Gwyn: He has already made the choice. You fall in the dime-a-dozen category because "a man can never replace his children." Get smart and replace him.

The Russians Intend To Take Suez Canal

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

President Nixon wants to see the Arabs and Israelis agree on a workable peace for the Middle East, with security all around whether it is attained through a redrawing of strategic boundaries or by the signing of pacts that include automatic sanctions.

But the Soviets want the Suez Canal. And, since the Communists never really compromise when they negotiate, we are left with the cold choice between continued conflict and a "peace" that would deliver half the world into the hands of an implacable enemy.

What the Soviets intend to get is spelled out in the blurry Ascanian language that they habitually use when posing their strategic aims. Moscow, as the Israelis point out in their own official analysis of the Supreme Soviet statement, "is not merely engaging in a policy of support and aid for Egypt."

The Israelis are clear-eyed about the ultimate Soviet desire to throw the West out of the Middle East and to replace it with a formidable Communist naval power "capable of free movement around the Arabian Peninsula through the Suez Canal." Such is the Israeli deduction from a paragraph in the Supreme statement that reads:

"Israeli aggression in the Middle East, supported by neo-colonialist circles, is aimed not only against the Arab states. What happens in that area, at the junction of the Asian and African continents, has a direct bearing on the destinies of the peoples of all the countries of Asia and Africa, on the destinies of universal peace, on the security of nations... passiveness in the face of the aggressor would unite the hands of the imperialists for new aggressive actions against other peoples..."

As the Israelis say, this places the Israeli-Arab dispute on a global footing. The destinies of all southern Asia and eastern Africa will be decided in favor of the Communists if Israel is cruelly "neutralized" or allowed to go under.

The Soviets, according to the official Israeli "policy background" paper, are willing to "tailor and cosmeticize" their tactics to assuage Western fears, but the strategy is not affected thereby.

Moscow has been clueing in has connived with the Egyptian.

Fleming Of U-M Praises Campus Unrest Report

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A presidential task force's report on campus violence has been praised by University of Michigan President Robert Fleming as "sound, objective and understanding."

"An important item of the report," Fleming said, "is the emphasis upon the need for reconciliation and lowering of the tone of combative rhetoric."

The commission headed by former Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton urged President Nixon to assert moral leadership and called for an end to polarization of society. A move toward ending the Vietnam war, toward racial and social equality and an easing of the accusatory voices in the nation were among the recommendations.

times to move the SA II and the SA III missiles up to the canal bank despite the terms of the cease-fire agreement. And the Soviet naval presence is made doubly strong in the eastern Mediterranean by the port facilities which Moscow has acquired in Latakia, Syria, and Port Said and Alexandria in Egypt. This adds down the approach to Suez from the north.

Meanwhile, despite the long sea haul around the Cape of Good Hope, the Soviets have also been establishing their "presence" in Yemen, Aden, Somaliland, Mauritius, Bazar, and the Andaman Islands. As Dr. Stefan Posony of the Hoover Institute at Stanford University points out, none of this activity makes sense save on the supposition that the Suez Canal will some day be opened under Russian control.

Dr. Posony says "the Suez Canal is the main missing link... If the USSR breaks through at Suez, it would be able to outflank Europe as well as Asia, and it would follow through with major moves in the Far East."

increase in wages?" Fraser said.

Fraser asked that any rate hikes be blocked until Blue Cross puts into effect a "sound plan for prospective budgeting for hospitals and other health facilities," and that Blue Shield reintroduce a "three-fee schedule for paying physicians adjusted annually for changes in consumer prices."

He also asked that both be required to "institute working arrangements with new and existing prepaid group practice plans," and Blue Cross make a report to the insurance commissioner within three months on its reforms by hospitals and extended care facilities in areas such as "duplication of services, better utilization of hospitals and greater emphasis on out-patient care."

Paul E. Fietzsch, Blue Shield vice president for finance, said the new increase was needed to close the gap in the added expenses of the expanded benefit program that began in 1968.

He said the increased program caused a 4.2 per cent hike in claims in the first year. He added that the "unpredictable increase in services, along with increases in physician charges and other external factors beyond our control, heavily taxed Blue Shield's resources."

Representatives of Blue Cross, which pays hospital bills, said their increases were needed because of a 16 per cent yearly hike in Michigan hospital costs. Fraser also said one of the issues in the current strike against General Motors by the UAW is the automaker's request that workers begin paying part of health insurance programs, because of the greatly increasing costs.

A complicating factor for Moscow is the Red Chinese reaction to the Soviet blueprint. The Maoists have been active in the Fedayeen attempts to overthrow King Hussein in Jordan.

According to the Hoover Institute information, George H. Nash, the leader of the Palestine Liberation Front, receives $10,000 plus family allowances from Peking each month. Red China has also been moving to counter the Soviets on the Indian Ocean side; southern Arabia has its Maoist guerrillas, and there is a real Red Chinese "presence" in Tanzania.

However, the Western Communist proximity to Syria and to Jordan and the fact that the Red Chinese look naval power mean that the Soviets are not seriously menaced by Peking in their take-Suez strategy.

How the U. S., which clings to the hope of a peace that will preserve Israel as a balancing factor in the Middle East, can pull some brands from the burning is not apparent from anything that Washington is doing. We might as well know and face the worst.

Skyrocketing Health Insurance Costs Rapped By UAW Official

DETROIT (AP)—A United Auto Workers Union vice president Monday urged that a request for rate hikes by Blue Cross and Blue Shield be withheld "until the Blues have set their houses in order."

Douglas Fraser, UAW vice president in charge of the Chrysler department, told State Insurance Commissioner Russell E. Van Hoeser, "We voice the concern of Michigan labor and all Michigan citizens over the incredible inflation of health insurance costs."

However, spokesmen for the medical insurance agencies claimed that the requested rate hikes were justified because of inflation, expanded services and the increased use of services.

Another hearing was scheduled for today in Lansing. Van Hoeser said he will announce his decision on the rate hike requests in mid-October.

Blue Shield, which pays doctor bills, is asking for a 4.85 per cent hike. Blue Cross, which pays hospital fees, is asking for a 5.3 per cent increase.

Fraser said if the increase is granted, Blue Shield rates will have increased "56 per cent from the first quarter of this year through the first quarter of 1971."

"What group of workers in Michigan in the past year has had as much as a 56 per cent increase in wages?" Fraser said.

Fraser asked that any rate hikes be blocked until Blue Cross puts into effect a "sound plan for prospective budgeting for hospitals and other health facilities," and that Blue Shield reintroduce a "three-fee schedule for paying physicians adjusted annually for changes in consumer prices."

He also asked that both be required to "institute working arrangements with new and existing prepaid group practice plans," and Blue Cross make a report to the insurance commissioner within three months on its reforms by hospitals and extended care facilities in areas such as "duplication of services, better utilization of hospitals and greater emphasis on out-patient care."

U.P. Report

A group of five state representatives — from the Upper Peninsula and another from Lower Michigan — earlier this month presented their recommendations for the development of the economic potential of the Upper Peninsula to the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems (UPCAP) at Sault Ste. Marie. The "recommendations" portion of the report covered 24 pages and another 24 pages of "appendix" was attached, including various exhibits and papers to support the recommendations.

Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee) was chairman of the "Interim Study Committee" and was assisted by Rep. Russell Hellman (D-Mackinac Island), Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistiquette), Rep. Jack Payant (R-Kingsford) and James O'Neill Jr. (D-Saginaw).

As might be expected from a panel composed in the majority of Upper Peninsula legislators in an election year, the report is highly optimistic about the future of the Upper Peninsula and recommends a basket full of federal state money to help the U. P. to reach its economic potential. Funds are suggested for development of tourism, recreation, forests and forest products, highways and other transportation, mining, etc., in variations on themes which have been played in the U. P. for years. And, as also might be expected in an election year, there was no mention of the taxes which might be necessary to finance the recommended programs.

But there were some interesting points, nevertheless, and some apparent inconsistencies.

The five-man committee, for example, suggests that the Upper Peninsula be developed and strongly promoted for its recreational and tourism potential. "The tourist industry in the Upper Peninsula should increase its sales from an estimated 200 million dollars in 1969 to over 500 million dollars annually by 1990, if properly promoted and new projects, both public and private, are adequately financed." Those projects include scenic roads, modern highways, development of campsites, funding of programs for Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore and Isle Royale National Park, and establishment of historic parks and museums (this would be financed by revenue bonds under authority of the Department of Natural Resources), including a "logging and timber products museum on Little Bay de Noc in the Escanaba-Gladstone area."

On the other hand, the committee suggests that both the federal and state governments "make available" to private industry 50,000 acres each for retirement and recreational homesites. Such a program, the report contends, would provide "sorely needed new tax bases" in the U. P. in the next 15 years. Perhaps, 100,000 acres of the nearly four million in state and federal ownership is a small fraction of land in public hands, but it spotted in "choice" locations — the type which is most desirable for recreational and retirement homesites — isn't it possible that the public could be shortchanged. In any such program, great care would be needed to guarantee continued access to the lakes, rivers and forests that make the Upper Peninsula what it is today.

There also seems to be an inconsistency in the report in the reliance on scientifically developed data and proposals and in the practical application of that knowledge.

The report states, under the recommendations to the Michigan Legislature, for example: "Fish and Game Management — Continual and increased funding of fish and game management programs for the most efficient utilization of huge public land ownership in the Upper Peninsula is of prime importance."

The statement indicates belief in scientific game management practices. Yet Rep. Jacobetti, Rep. Hellman, Rep. Varnum and Rep. Payant were instrumental in taking the responsibility of deer herd management away from the Department of Natural Resources game biologists who have spent their lives in the practice. And Jacobetti has been leading the fight to extend the deer season moratorium in the Upper Peninsula, against scientific reason.

On a whole, the report includes some positive suggestions to assist in the development of the Upper Peninsula and should be valuable as such. Other reports, however, also have made sound suggestions for the same purpose. The key is in implementing the recommendations. The U. P. must hope that the five representatives carry more weight with their colleagues than other documents and can, in fact, get something done.

Peninsula Potpourri

The 88-year-old bell that once hung from the String St. fire hall, now restored to its original luster, will grace the new fire hall site on S. 3rd St. in Marquette, the City Commission decided after weeks of study on possible sites for the bell. City officials had conferred with Marquette County Historical Society officials before the decision was made. Four firemen restored the bell.

Releasing of a pack of timber wolves of breeding age in the Upper Peninsula is being proposed by the Mackinac Chapter of the Sierra Club. "For the past several years no young wolves have been sighted among the less than one dozen wolves estimated to remain in the Upper Peninsula," explained James E. Wynsberge of Detroit, a member of the club's endangered species subcommittee.

Anne M. Loatelli, 30, formerly of Laurium, has been bound over for trial in Milwaukee on a charge of first degree murder as a result of the suffocation death of her six-month-old son, Martin. Police said she put a plastic bag over the baby's face and then put a blanket and pillow on top of that. She later called police and told them to look up in a world which had so many things that killed her son because she did not want things crying with it.

The Russians Intend To Take Suez Canal

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

President Nixon wants to see the Arabs and Israelis agree on a workable peace for the Middle East, with security all around whether it is attained through a redrawing of strategic boundaries or by the signing of pacts that include automatic sanctions.

But the Soviets want the Suez Canal. And, since the Communists never really compromise when they negotiate, we are left with the cold choice between continued conflict and a "peace" that would deliver half the world into the hands of an implacable enemy.

What the Soviets intend to get is spelled out in the blurry Aesopian language that they habitually use when posing their strategic aims. CONGRATULATIONS

The Rapid River Education Association wishes to take this opportunity to commend the people of Bark River-Harris for their splendid support of education as demonstrated by their approval of a new high school Monday. It is extremely gratifying for us to see a community working together to provide quality education for the children of the Bark River-Harris area. Keep up the good work.

Why Notre Dame? Obviously, our southern Michigan politicians want our votes as witness James Brickley's handshaking session at Mead Corp.

But they shouldn't antagonize we of the Upper Peninsula. Why Notre Dame's football schedule (Editor's note: On the back of a campaign flyer), Lions, Michigan, Michigan State, Wayne State and Notre Dame. Why?

Northern Michigan University could have been recognized.

The great majority of tricks are won by high cards—that is, by aces, kings and queens—but a substantial number of them are also won by low cards. It is generally easy enough to score your high-card tricks; the real challenge is to win tricks with low cards.

Take this deal where South wound up playing the hand at two hearts doubled — even though West had opened the bidding with a heart. It is hard to blame West for doubling two hearts with his powerful trumps and other high cards, but by the time the hand was over he had good reason to regret the double.

Declarer won the spade lead in dummy with the king, cashed the ace of clubs, ruffed a club, returned to dummy with a spade to the ace, then ruffed another club.

Continuing the crossruff, declarer led a diamond to the ace, now led a spade—which he trumped with dummy's singleton five as both opponents followed suit.

By this time, eight tricks had been played and South had won them all! Furthermore, West's potential defensive tricks had deteriorated greatly in value, since his last five cards consisted of the A-K-Q-9-8 of hearts! West made his five trump tricks all right, but South made two hearts doubled.

West would have done considerably better had he led a high trump at trick one in order to take a peek at dummy before embarking on his best course of defense. Had he done this, declarer would have scored only three low-card tricks instead of four and he would have finished down one.

Vasectomy Legality In Illinois Confirmed

Dear Ann Landers: My husband as well as the husbands of several of my friends would like you to answer some questions about the male operation called vasectomy. We are all in our late 30s and early 40s and do not want more children.

Can you tell us why this completely foolproof operation cannot be performed in an Illinois hospital? According to someone who knows, vasectomies are done only in the office of certain physicians — after hours, behind closed doors.

Why should respectable citizens be forced to behave like criminals in order to terminate their child-bearing days? And why can males in California or New York have this surgery openly, while in Illinois they are forced to go underground? May we hear from you on this? — Past 40

Dear Past: Your letter is an excellent example of accepting as fact hearsay stuff which is not true.

According to Dr. James Campbell, the President of Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago, the vasectomy is a legal operation in Illinois and about half of these surgical procedures are performed in hospitals. It is such a simple operation that it can be performed in a physician's office, and about 50 per cent of them are. The entire procedure takes about 20 minutes and is relatively painless. The patient can walk away and return to work in a couple of days. And now may I add a word to correct another mistaken notion. No operation is completely foolproof. Please read the next letter.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 38 years old. My husband is 40. After five children and three miscarriages, my husband decided to have a vasectomy. That was in March. I am now in my fourth month of pregnancy. What happened? Well, it seems my spouse decided it wasn't necessary to go back and have his seminal fluid checked six weeks after the surgery.

At first I couldn't believe I was pregnant. I told my doctor it was impossible because my husband had had a vasectomy. The doctor said I must be seeing someone on the side or the operation was "unsuccessful." When he asked if my husband had returned to his physician for a sperm count I said I didn't know but I would ask.

Well, I asked, and of course he had not. So please, Ann, tell your readers that they should not assume the operation was a success until they get the doctor's word for it. — June Is Busting Out All Over

Dear June: Thank you. You told them, and in a most convincing manner.

Dear Ann Landers: I am going with a man who is separated from his wife. Ike pays rent for a cheap room where he hangs some of his clothes but he is never there. He stays with me from Monday through Thursday. On Friday he takes a suitcase and goes to his wife's place. She is a big slob and Ike cares nothing for her but he is nuts about his children.

When he moved back here on Monday we got into a big fight. I told him the next time he goes to his wife's place he can stay there because I am fed up with spending every weekend alone. He got mad and yelled, "Women are a dime a dozen but a man can never replace his children." I love him but I don't think he is treating me right. Should I insist that he make a choice and take my chances? — Green Eyes

Dear Eyes: He has already made the choice. You fall in the dime-a-dozen category because "a man can never replace his children." Get smart and replace HIM.

New School Spending Regulations 'Rough'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Education Committee has set a goal of spending more on education by July 1 or submit a plan for achieving that goal. Officials say as many as 12,000 schools may not meet the new standards.

Districts without comparable data will be ineligible for Title I money after July 1, 1972.

These new requirements could be the most important thing to happen in the education of millions of children since the federal government took over the schools in 1965.

The federal government calls this "comparability."

Some districts spend as much as $800 more per pupil in rich schools as in their poorer ones, the education office says. In such districts federal aid seems to equalize expenditures between schools and does not, as intended, provide extra help for disadvantaged students.

Government officials blame this lack of comparability in part for the slow progress in the U.S. effort to improve the education of low-income students.

The 12,000 schools receiving Title I funds were designated

More Michigan Servicemen Die

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Michigan men were among the latest U.S. servicemen to die in Southeast Asia.

Killed in action were Army Sgt. Nathan Nowakowski, husband of Mrs. Patricia Nowakowski of Dearborn, Army Spc. 4 Myron R. Nowakowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Nowakowski of Warren, and Army Pfc. Larry R. Bueck, husband of Mrs. Pamela M. Bueck of Fraser.

The Defense Department said the death of Army Pfc. Gabriel R. Sagar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Sagar of Port Huron, was not from hostile action.

New School Spending Regulations 'Rough'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has set in motion new regulations for local school spending some officials predict will prove as momentous as the civil rights laws of the 1960s.

The Office of Education — following up an announcement of last February — has told districts that to qualify for the major source of federal aid they must spend as many state and local tax dollars in schools serving low-income neighborhoods as in those for more affluent areas.

The federal government calls this "comparability."

Some districts spend as much as $500 more per pupil in their rich schools as in their poor ones, the education office says. In such districts federal aid seems to equalize expenditures between schools and does not, as intended, provide extra help for disadvantaged students.

Government officials blame this lack of comparability in part for disappointing results for the $1.5 billion aid program for upgrading the education of low-income students — title I of the Elementary and Secondary School Act.

The 16,400 districts receiving Title I funds must demonstrate comparability of expenditures among their schools by next July 1 or submit a plan for achieving that goal. Officials say as many as 12,000 appear not to meet the new standards.

Districts without comparability will be ineligible for Title I money after July 1, 1972.

"These new requirements could be the most important thing to happen in the education of minority children since the 1964 Civil Rights act," said an administration official who helped draft the rules. "They are going to become a very hot issue when people realize their impact and meaning for the financing of education."

The 1964 act made it illegal to support discriminatory programs with federal aid.

To achieve compliance, some of these districts are expected to face the politically uncomfortable choices of either raising school taxes or shifting funds from high-income schools into poor ones.

The measures of comparability will be the amount of state or local money spent in each school for instructional salaries, equipment and books and the ratio of pupils to instructional staff.

Tour Of Scotland Enjoyed By Rotary

Dr. James Gordon of Escanaba, who visited in Scotland last summer, presented a "tour of Scotland" program with slides and narrative to fellow Rotarians at a meeting of the club at the House of Ludington Tuesday noon.

The Rev. Philip Lyon, Rotary Club president, conducted the meeting and introduced Dr. Gordon.

A native of Nova Scotia whose ancestors were of the Gordon clan of Scotland, Dr. Gordon gave an amusing, perceptive and informative report on his tour of Scotland. His talk was illustrated with color slides that captured the beautiful beauty of Scotland's landscape.

Dr. Gordon in company with his sister toured Scotland by auto and found hospitable overnight accommodations in cottages and at farm homes—wherever there was the sign "B & B"—bed and breakfast.

The Robert Burns cottage in Ayreshire, Edinburgh and castles there and elsewhere, Loch Ness and the fabulous monster from its depths, were among the places visited by the Gordons. The history of Scotland and its chapter on the tragedy of Bonnie Prince Charlie were outlined by Dr. Gordon.

Scotland's hills and mountains, now being reforested, and with vast areas carpeted in fragrant heather, along with parks and gardens vivid with flowers, were pictured.

The tour ended with a visit to the Orkney Island north of Scotland.

Immunization Clinic To Have New Schedule

The Delta-Menominee District Health Department is announcing a new schedule for immunization clinics, as follows:

First Friday of each month, from 2 to 4 p. m.; thereafter each Thursday of the month from 2 to 4 p. m.

Since Oct. 2 is the first Friday in that month, the clinic will be held that date from 2 to 4 p. m. The public is reminded that Court House hours will change to 9 a. m. opening to 5 p. m. closing on Oct. 1.

Further information may be obtained by calling 786-4723.

Hiring Hit

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A coalition of minority groups in the Grand Rapids area has threatened picketing and demonstrations to bring about enforcement of laws outlining minority group hiring practices.

The Rev. William Abney, one of the organizers of the coalition of about six social welfare and civil rights groups, said contractors are not moving fast enough in hiring blacks and other minorities.

Scout Nights Are Planned

Boys in the third through eighth grades, or eight years old, who want to join the Cub Scouts or Boy Scouts will have a special opportunity to do so Monday, Oct. 5.

"School Nights for Scouting" will be held by the Red Buck District, Boy Scouts of America, at 7 p. m. Monday in St. Anne's School in Escanaba and at the James T. Jones school in Gladstone, announced Michael Furstenberg of Gladstone, district scout executive.

The meeting at St. Anne's school, he said, will be for boys from Old Jefferson, St. Patrick's, St. Joseph's, Franklin, St. Anne's, Lemmer, New Jefferson, Washington, Webster and St. Thomas schools. It is planned for boys wishing to participate in either the Boy Scout or Cub Scout program.

The meeting at the James T. Jones school is planned only for those boys wishing to join the Boy Scout program.

Information describing the event and telling boys where to go with their parents has been distributed in the schools, Furstenberg reported.

"School Night for Scouting is an opportunity for interest to new boys and their parents to find out about Scouting and to meet the different leaders in the area," Furstenberg said. "Boys also may join the group of their choice during the evening."

The "School Night" event is part of an overall program to open the door for 1,000 more boys throughout the Hiawatha-Land Council to become scouts this fall, he added.

Persons wishing more information should contact Furstenberg, 801 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone, telephone 428-9572.

Forest Acreage To Return More Local Revenues

Gov. William G. Milliken will come to the Upper Peninsula next month to sign into law a measure that will increase the return to local governments from privately owned forest lands.

He will sign the bill, an amendment to the Commercial Forest Reserve Act, at the Iron County Courthouse in Crystal Falls at 2:30 p. m. October 9.

Under the new law, local units of government will get 40 cents an acre return on land in the Commercial Forest Reserve rather than an average of 17 cents an acre, as in the past. This money goes to school districts, townships and counties and affects about one million acres of land in the Upper Peninsula.

Nine corporations own more than 90 per cent of the one million acres, and these are primarily paper mills and lumber companies.

Under the new law, 15 cents per acre will be paid by the land owner and 25c per acre by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Under the old law, 10 cents was paid by the DNR and from nothing to 10 cents by the land owner.

Briefly Told

Delta District of the MLPNA will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Hospitality Room of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

Barbershoppers will meet at the music room in Gladstone Wednesday at 8 p. m. All interested men are asked to attend. Lunch will be served.

Escanaba police are continuing their investigation into the theft of a car owned by Ronald Dufour of 2103 8th Ave. S., which was stolen from where it was parked at Ford River Saturday night. The car is a 1964 maroon Rambler, license BGR-336.

THANK YOU

I wish to extend my personal "THANK YOU" to the voters in the Bark River-Harris School District who so overwhelmingly supported the bond issue for a new high school. This support is especially gratifying to me after the many years I have worked for better schools in our district and the many, many letters, contracts and trips I have made to all parts of the State in order to get the proposition placed before the people.

The greatest reward that I as a board member could receive, is the confidence you have so greatly shown in your community and the future of your children. I have always maintained, and rightly so, that money spent for education is not an expense but an investment that never stops paying dividends.

A special "THANK YOU" to the students of the district who never gave up hope and worked so diligently to get support for the new building. It will provide many new opportunities for better educational programs that will assure us of better citizens in the future.

Again, a most humble and grateful "THANK YOU" for your support.

More Michigan Schools Under Federal Scrutiny

LANSING (AP)—Eight Michigan school districts, in addition to Ferndale, are under "close federal scrutiny," state education officials said Tuesday.

The Ferndale district was found in violation of federal segregation laws Monday by a Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) officer and threatened with the loss of federal funds.

State officials said the eight districts also on HEW's check-list are: Flint, Grand Rapids, Pontiac, Saginaw, Flint Beecher, River Rouge, Ecorse and Westwood (Dearborn Heights).

The state also has identified 22 other school districts which operate one or more schools with black enrollments of 50 per cent or more.

A state Education Department racial census for 1969 - 1970 showed that "80 per cent of Michigan's black students attended predominantly black schools even though they are only 13.3 per cent of the total student population."

The report concluded that: "It is quite clear that despite the efforts of local school boards and the State Department of Education, racial isolation in Michigan schools persists and presents a serious barrier to equality of educational opportunity."

Consumer To Have Voice In Lawmaking

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's consumer groups are likely to have a voice in lawmaking, as the federal government has approved a Senate bill.

In its final form, the measure was short of what consumer groups had hoped for, but it is still likely to provide a boost to the Senate floor.

The compromise bill approved Monday by the Senate Commerce Committee would create a White House Council of Consumer Advisors as a policy-making body for a new and independent consumer protection agency.

"For the first time in the history of the country, the consumer will have both a voice and an advocate in the government," said Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., chairman of the Government Operations subcommittee which wrote the bill.

As approved, any member can make amendments to the bill in final debate.

Ribicoff said the government advisory would likely prod regulatory agencies, such as the Federal Trade Commission, into actions to protect consumers which, he said, they have been reluctant to undertake in the past.

In its final form, the bill was short of a section creating a consumer fraud division in the Justice Department.

Ribicoff said that a bill allowing individual consumers to sue in federal court was hopelessly bogged in the Senate's Judiciary Committee making the work for a new fraud division most of this time.

A committee amendment by Sen. Jacob Javits, D-N.Y., would require the law consumer or agency to protect industrial trade secrets and another sponsored by Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., would forbid it from making any disclosures or statements rating one product as better than another.

But Ribicoff said the consumer agency, if written into law, will for the first time give the individual citizen the power that he charged influential industrial and commercial groups have often usurped before regulatory agencies.

In other action, the committee approved a bill giving more power to the General Accounting Office often dubbed the watchdog of Congress.

This bill, which would rename the GAO the "Comptroller of the United States," calls on it to review on-going federal programs in order to catch lapses before the point of no return.

The bill allows for the settling of possible future disputes between the U.S. Attorney General and Comptroller General over such problems as the legality of the so-called Philadelphia Plan for minority hiring in the construction industry.

"They will now be able to go into court and settle the question," the committee said in its report.

Local Issues Now Big Part Of GM Talks

DETROIT (AP)—With national issues on the back burner, strikes-minded General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers' Union today concentrate on local issues in talks to settle disputes at local plants.

A UAW spokesman said the union Tuesday of both sides contacting local units would be reported today—the 100th day of a national strike which has cost $24.75 a worker.

The local in-the-plant agreements supplement the national contract. Both union and company officials have said settling the various plant disputes before a strike will end.

Settlements have been reached at only eight of the 200 bargaining units, with no new ones since last Friday. Local-level issues range from seniority matters to production standards.

UAW President Leonard Woodcock returned to the bargaining table Tuesday and said he will stay there until a new contract is reached.

Other related developments Tuesday include:

—In Peoria, Ill., Caterpillar Tractor Co. made a revised offer to the UAW, which is also negotiating new contracts in the agricultural implement company. The UAW said that Caterpillar would be the target, if the UAW decided to strike one of the ag-implement companies when contracts expire at midnight Thursday. The UAW rejected the firm's new offer.

—In Miami Beach, the United Rubber Workers Union voted at its biennial convention Tuesday to offer an unspecified, but a multi-million dollar interest-free loan to striking UAW members, if needed. UAW secretary-treasurer Emil Minsky said he would like to organized labor to build a mutual strike fund of at least $500 million.

—Most of the 1971 GM models went on sale Tuesday as dealers reported good response, but voiced fears their supply would run out if the strike continues. GM said its supply of 1970 and 1971 cars would last six-to-seven weeks.

Quarantine Set

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Chippewa County will be placed under a month-long rabies quarantine beginning Friday, officials said.

The action was ordered after a man was bitten and three of his children were scratched by a stray cat which tests showed to be rabid.

Consumer To Have Voice In Lawmaking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation designed to give the nation's consumers influence inside the federal government has been approved by a Senate panel.

In its final form, the measure was short of what some consumer groups had wanted, but it is still likely to provoke a fight on the Senate floor.

The compromise bill approved Monday by the Senate Government Operations Committee would create a White House Council of Consumer Advisors as a policy-making body for a new and independent consumer protection agency.

"For the first time in the history of the country, the consumer will have both a voice and an advocate in the government," said Sen. Abraham Ribicoff (D-Conn.), chairman of the Government Operations subcommittee which wrote the bill.

As approved, any member can make amendments to the bill in final debate.

Ribicoff said the government advocacy would likely prod regulatory agencies, such as the Federal Trade Commission, into actions to protect consumers which, he said, they have been reluctant to undertake in the past.

In its final form, the bill was shorn of a section creating a consumer fraud division in the Justice Department.

Ribicoff said that a bill allowing individual consumers to sue in federal court was hopelessly bottled in the Senate's Judiciary Committee making the work for a new fraud division moot at this time.

A committee amendment by Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., would require the new consumer agency to protect industrial trade secrets and another sponsored by Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., would forbid it from making any disclosures or statements rating one product as better than another.

But Ribicoff said the consumer agency, if written into law, will for the first time give the individual citizen the power that he charged influential industrial and commercial groups have often usurped before regulatory agencies.

In other action, the committee approved a bill giving more power to the General Accounting Office often dubbed the watchdog of Congress.

This bill, which would rename the GAO the "Office of the Comptroller of the United States," calls on it to review ongoing federal programs in order to catch lapses before the point of no return.

The bill allows for the settling of possible future disputes between the U.S. Attorney General and Comptroller General over such problems as the legality of the so-called Philadelphia Plan for minority hiring in the construction industry.

"They will now be able to go into court and settle the question," the committee said in its report.

Local Issues Now Big Part Of GM Talks

DETROIT (AP) — With national issues on the back burner, strike-closed General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union today concentrate on telephone campaigns to fire up negotiators to settle disputes at local plants.

A UAW spokesman said the actions Tuesday of both sides contacting local units would be repeated today—the 16th day of a national strike which has idled 395,700 GM workers.

The local at-the-plant agreements supplement the national contract. Both union and company officials have said substantial progress must be made on settling the various plant disputes before a strike will end.

Settlements have been reached at only eight of 155 bargaining units, with no new ones since last Friday. Local level issues range from seniority matters to production standards.

UAW President Leonard Woodcock returned to the bargaining table Tuesday and said he will stay there until a new contract is reached.

Other related developments Tuesday include:

—In Peoria, Ill., Caterpillar Tractor Co. made a revised offer to the UAW, which is also negotiating new contracts in the agricultural implement company. The UAW said that Caterpillar would be the target, if the UAW decided to strike one of the ag-implement companies when contracts expire at midnight Thursday. The UAW rejected the firm's new offer.

—In Miami Beach, the United Rubber Workers Union voted at its biennial convention Tuesday to offer an unspecified, but a multi-million dollar interest-free loan to striking UAW members, if needed. UAW secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey said he would like for organized labor to build a mutual strike fund of at least $250 million.

—Most of the 1971 GM models went on sale Tuesday as dealers reported good response, but voiced fears their supply would run out if the strike continues. GM said its supply of 1970 and 1971 cars would last six-to-seven weeks.

Quarantine Set

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Chippewa County will be placed under a month-long rabies quarantine beginning Friday, officials said.

The action was ordered after a man was bitten and three of his children were scratched by a stray cat which tests showed to be rabid.

Excessive Drinkers Forget More Quickly

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Excessive drinkers who think a good diet safeguards them from brain damage may be in for a disillusionment. Tests made at the University of Florida College of Medicine on two groups of mice gave these results: mice fed an adequate diet plus alcohol learned more slowly and forgot more quickly than those fed an adequate diet without alcohol.

What color is your bathroom? A survey found that 40 per cent of the nation's bathrooms are now decorated pink.

Folklore says that if you find an unusual number of spiders in your house, or skunks move in under your barn, we're in for a terrible hard winter. On the other hand, if we have a white Christmas, that forecasts an early spring and a green Easter.

Quotable notables: Our love of God is tested by the question of whether we seek Him or His gifts."—Ralph W. Sockman.

Kachoo: What are your chances of catching a cold? They are 3 to 1 that you will come down with at least one a year, and some 25 per cent of the population will have four or more. On an ordinary winter day about 20 million Americans have the sneeze.

Pinky to thumb: Many children still learn their basic arithmetic by counting on their fingers. A survey of 200 Massachusetts kids disclosed that 140 began reckoning from their thumb and 57 from their little finger.

Household hints: To ripen bananas quickly, peel and place them in a 200-degree oven for 10 minutes.

Cover up: It's a good idea to wear a hat or cap if you have any kind of circulatory problem or are out in very cold weather. In 25-degree weather—and that's only a few degrees below freezing—a man can lose up to half of his body heat merely by leaving his head uncovered.

Senators Agree

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's two U. S. senators voted Tuesday to invoke debate-limiting closure on the electoral reform constitutional amendment, but the 53 to 34 vote in favor of closure fell short of the required two-thirds majority. Both Republican Robert P. Griffin and Democrat Philip A. Hart voted for closure.

Education Board Asking Help To Meet Challenges

ESCANABA, MICH. (AP) — William J. Michaux, acting state superintendent of public instruction, is asking the Escanaba Board of Education to help him meet the challenges of "the educational balleinage" of the state.

Michaux Tuesday before the board, which is the governing body of the Escanaba School District, asked for help in the form of a request to the Legislature for $1 million to fund an experimental program of guaranteed performance contracting, under which either private firms or teacher groups would receive compensation if results are reflected in classroom performance, and an additional $1 million for in-service training of teachers.

—As on a proposal he will develop under which "one school district" with social, racial and educational patterns reflecting "the good and the not so good of Michigan life" would be designated "the state experimental district for student instructional involvement, innovation and administrative change," with preferential funding provided.

—Complete action on a proposal he made recently for a meeting between the board and selected school administrators in developing "a realistic set of policies regarding suspension and expulsion of students."

Farmer, 81, Ignores Plush Grosse Pointe

GEORGE POINTE WOOD, 81, (AP)—At the age of 81, William J. Michaux goes about his daily chores, unimpressed that his century-old farm is the last in the plush Grosse Pointe area of fabled mansions and wealth.

"It's a hard job," Michaux said Tuesday after spending hours gathering pumpkins at his four-acre farm, with its red barn, chicken house, greenhouse, vegetable patch and flower beds.

"We raise enough for ourselves now and if we have a little more we sell it," Michaux said. He has oldtime customers who stop in to buy eggs, or squash or cutters.

The Michaux family first purchased a few lots in 1871 from a private owner that was part of a long, narrow early 19th Century French "ribbon" farm, that has a small frontage at Lake St. Clair.

The farm had been as much as 22 acres at the turn of the century, but now it has been reduced to just four.

Three of his grandchildren, who range in age from 10 to 13 and who live nearby, help with the farm. To encourage them, he has purchased a chestnut horse and rider have them here "looking for the forest," he said.

A neighbor remarked, "Michaux really loves the topsoil he farms. He calls it the 'good black dirt.'"

An organizer of the city of Grosse Pointe Woods, Michaux has watched the area turn from rural to suburban. Many wealthy businessmen and auto executives, such as Henry Ford II, having chairman of the Ford Motor Co., own lakefront estates in Grosse Pointe.

"I've seen the changes come gradually. That's why they don't surprise me," he said.

He plans to continue farming. "I told a couple of people, may be more—when they carry me out of here, then they can try to buy it," he said.

Education Board Asking Help To Meet Challenges

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Dr. John Porter, acting state superintendent of public instruction, has asked schoolmen to help the State Board of Education meet challenges of "the new educational ballgame" of the 1970's.

Porter spoke Tuesday before the fall conference of the Michigan Association of School Administrators at Mackinac Island.

He said five major proposals to go before the education board in the near future can, with support from local school officials, produce major changes in the Michigan educational system.

"Every time the state makes a major education decision, at least one-third of the entire population can be directly affected," Porter said.

"And because of the parents and taxpayers, the number indirectly affected by state educational decisions can reach as high as 75 per cent of the population," he said.

Porter said he will ask the education board to:

—Accept the MASA "equal quality plan" for distribution of state and federal funds for education as the "best proposal to date for streamlining the financing of public education in Michigan."

—Propose "a major new alignment in regard to the organization of regional and local school districts, and the delivery of services from the State Department of Education."

—Recommend a request to the Legislature for $2 million to fund an experimental program of guaranteed performance contracting, under which either private firms or teacher groups would receive compensation if results are reflected in classroom performance, and an additional $1 million for in-service training of teachers.

—Act on a proposal he will develop under which "one school district" with social, racial and educational patterns reflecting "the good and the not so good of Michigan life" would be designated "the state experimental district for student instructional involvement, innovation and administrative change," with preferential funding provided.

—Complete action on a proposal he made recently for a meeting between the board and selected school administrators to develop "a realistic set of policies regarding suspension and expulsion of students."

"We raise enough for ourselves now and if we have a little more we sell it," Michaux said. He has oldtime customers who stop at times to buy eggs, or squash or cucumbers. His corn is locally famous, for a unique taste, since he saves seeds each year for planting.

The Michaux family first purchased a few lots in 1871 from a private claim that was part of a long, narrow early 18th Century French "ribbon" farm, that had a small frontage at Lake St. Clair.

The farm had been as much as 32 acres at the turn of the century, but now it has been reduced to just four.

SENIOR CITIZEN RESIDENTS of Harbor Tower apartments in Escanaba joined members of Escanaba's Housing Commission in an informal coffee hour Monday afternoon in the building's multi-purpose room. Here, several residents of the building visit the table including desserts, prepared by residents of the building. It was the first social event held in the building. (Daily Press Photo)

Suburbanettes Members Attend TOPS Convention

Members of the Suburbanettes TOPS Club of Escanaba attended the annual TOPS Club Area Recognition Day held Saturday, Sept. 26 at the National Guard Armory in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. Over 400 women from all over the Upper Peninsula attended the meet.

The Suburbanettes Club received a first place award in the Banner Parade, an award which is given annually to the club which best portrays the meaning of TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly). The winning banner was presented by Mrs. Carlton Johnson, leader and Mrs. Gilbert Silvola and depicted, "The Age of Aquarius." Judges for the event were art instructors and artists from the Sault area.

A humorous skit, "Large Shadows," written and directed by Mrs. Lawrence Shanahan, was also presented. Mrs. John Rogers played the leading role in the skit and narrator was Mrs. Carlton Johnson.

Mrs. Francis DeGrand, past president, presented the club queen for the year, Mrs. Lawrence Shanahan, to the group. Hosts for the day were Ste. TOPS of Sault Ste. Marie and SOS TOPS of Rosedale, Mich.

Ladies Mark Womanhood Day

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Today, in case you hadn't heard, is Womanhood Day.

It was so proclaimed recently by housewife Helen Andelin in an attempt to offset the women's liberation movement.

Mrs. Andelin made trips to several large cities to boost Womanhood Day and said it had the support of the antiliberal movements known as MOM—Men Our Masters and HOW—Happiness of Women.

Purpose of the day is to promote "femininity, masculinity and family life."

Mrs. Andelin, author of a book called "Fascinating Womanhood" which trumpets the virtues of being female, asked working women to observe the day by letting men open doors for them and not being bossy or aggressive.

On July 4, 1754, Col. George Washington, age 23, surrounded Fort Mifflin, near Lancaster, Pennsylvania, to French and Indians after a bitter struggle. The battle of Fort Mifflin set off the French and Indian War.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: Thought maybe some mothers of young children might be interested in this little extra precaution I take with my children. I always carry an up-to-date snapshot of my child in my wallet in case she gets lost. So easy to show this to a clerk in the store or a policeman on duty. Much better than any description you could give when you are so upset. Just remember what the child was wearing at the time. Sure saves valuable time in finding the child. Mrs. Sam Tuft

Hau Duc Not Part Of Enemy Program

HOU DUC, Vietnam (AP) — The word "pacification" covers a lot of ground in Hau Duc.

Two years ago, when Maj. Nguyen Van Thanh and his U.S. adviser, Capt. David Spencer, first arrived at the firebase, the Viet Cong set up a loudspeaker in the village and demanded they surrender.

The pair wasn't to be deterred. A few days later when Viet Cong snipers were taking position into the base from a nearby hill, Thanh rounded up 140 of the Regional Force troops he had inherited from the previous commander and set out to drive them away. Spencer recalls the scene:

"We got to the bottom of the hill, and the men stopped. They wouldn't go any farther. The major told them there were only three VC at the most up there and they were 140. But they still wouldn't move."

So Thanh started climbing, followed only by Spencer and the major's houseboy.

"We got up on the hill and found the VC had run away," Spencer says. "Then the RF's came up and they were so damned ashamed we never had any trouble with the soldiers again."

Two months after that incident, Hau Duc was attacked by a regimental-strength enemy force. Fifty defenders were killed. But others held ground and the North Vietnamese withdrew, leaving 314 dead.

That was in September 1968, and not a mortar round, not even a rifle shot, has been fired into Hau Duc since, the major claims. He insists there's not a North Vietnamese soldier within 10 miles.

No one is really sure why the place hasn't been attacked. Thanh insists the Viet Cong are afraid of him and his "psychology of the masses."

Hau Duc is one of the first and biggest refugee resettlement towns in the northernmost 1st Military Region. It has seven schools and a dispensary, making it the type of showcase "pacification" project that the Communist command ordinarily would like to disrupt.

The village is tightly organized. Normally, one-third of its people work in the fields, protected by another one-third who either are standing guard by the paddies or out on ambush.

The remaining one-third does common labor. They work on the new dispensary, help carry tin for the roofs, or clean up. But everyone works.

Jewish Holiday

JEWISH HOLIDAY INSIDE NEW YORK (AP) — Jews around the world celebrate Rosh Hashanah, the arrival of the Hebrew year 5731, beginning at sundown tonight. The 10 holy days of reflection and self-analysis end with Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement.

DRAGGED FIT NOT TO BE KILLED — Patrolman Joey Winlow of the Minneapolis Police Department bomb squad models one of three new suits of armor purchased for the squad. These "mod" ensembles cost $590 each.

Yugoslav Plant Accord Involves Ford Motor Co.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Machine Industry Association of Yugoslavia and Ford Motor Co. of the United States are negotiating joint construction of a Yugoslav factory with annual capacity of 200,000 agricultural vehicles, according to the Yugoslav undersecretary of foreign trade.

Petar Tomic did not give further details. He spoke as he left Belgrade for Washington to discuss increasing Yugoslav textile exports to the U.S.

On April 16 Udrzuna Metalna Industrija (IMI) of Belgrade said "certain agreement" had been reached with Ford on establishing a joint company to assemble Ford light industrial vehicles. UMI said then that it was planned that Ford would own 49 per cent of the assembly plant.

Solon Wants Closed-Door Meeting Rule

ANY ARBOR (AP) — Rep. Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, has asked Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley to rule on the legality of monthly closed-door business meetings held by the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

In a letter mailed to Kelley Tuesday, Faxon referred to a ruling by the attorney general in August 1969 on closed meetings held by the governing boards of institutions of higher learning.

At that time, Kelley ruled that when such a board meets in accordance with "the established rules for such a body for the transaction of business," it must convene in public.

"I have received information indicating that the practice of private meetings has not been discontinued by the University of Michigan Board of Regents," Faxon said in his letter. He asked Kelley to rule on a number of questions relating to the issue.

Faxon asked Kelley whether closed business meetings by the regents are legal and also questioned the legality of actions taken at closed meetings.

He also asked the attorney general to clarify the responsibility of governing boards to keep and make public minutes of their meetings.

Faxon also questioned the legality of telephone votes and any other method of transacting business other than a public meeting with a majority of the members present.

Finally, he asked Kelley what legal recourse is available to individuals who wish to gain access to meetings from which they currently are barred.

U-M President Robben Fleming defended closed meetings of the regents. "We've always acted on certain things privately and, to my knowledge, no one's ever complained."

Fleming said early disclosure of property purchase plans could have the effect of "jacking up the price," while faculty appointments and honorary degrees must be kept private "for obvious reasons."

"It's the old, old battle that's always gone on," Fleming said. "The press wants all meetings and information to be public, but there are some very serious problems with that."

Canadian researchers have launched balloons in efforts to keep birds away from fields of experimental hybrid corn. Artificial hawks dangle beneath the balloons to frighten away blackbirds.

Hau Duc Not Part Of Enemy Program

HAU DUC, Vietnam (AP) — The word "pacification" covers a lot of ground in Hau Duc.

Two years ago, when Maj. Nguyen Van Thanh and his U.S. adviser, Capt. David Spencer, first arrived at the firebase here, the Viet Cong set up a loudspeaker in the village and demanded they surrender.

The pair wasn't to be deterred. A few days later when Viet Cong snipers were taking potshots into the base from a nearby hill, Thanh rounded up 140 of the Regional Force troops he had inherited from the previous commander and set out to drive them away. Spencer recalls the scene:

"We got to the bottom of the hill, and the men stopped. They wouldn't go any farther. The major told them there were only three VC at the most up there and they were 140. But they still wouldn't move."

So Thanh started climbing, followed only by Spencer and the major's houseboy.

"We got up on the hill and found the VC had run away," Spencer says. "Then the RF's came up and they were so damned ashamed we never had any trouble with the soldiers again."

Two months after that incident, Hau Duc was attacked by a regimental-strength enemy force. Fifty defenders were killed. But others held ground and the North Vietnamese withdrew, leaving 314 dead.

That was in September 1968, and not a mortar round, not even a rifle shot, has been fired into Hau Duc since, the major claims. He insists there's not a North Vietnamese soldier within 10 miles.

No one is really sure why the place hasn't been attacked. Thanh insists the Viet Cong are afraid of him and his "psychology of the masses."

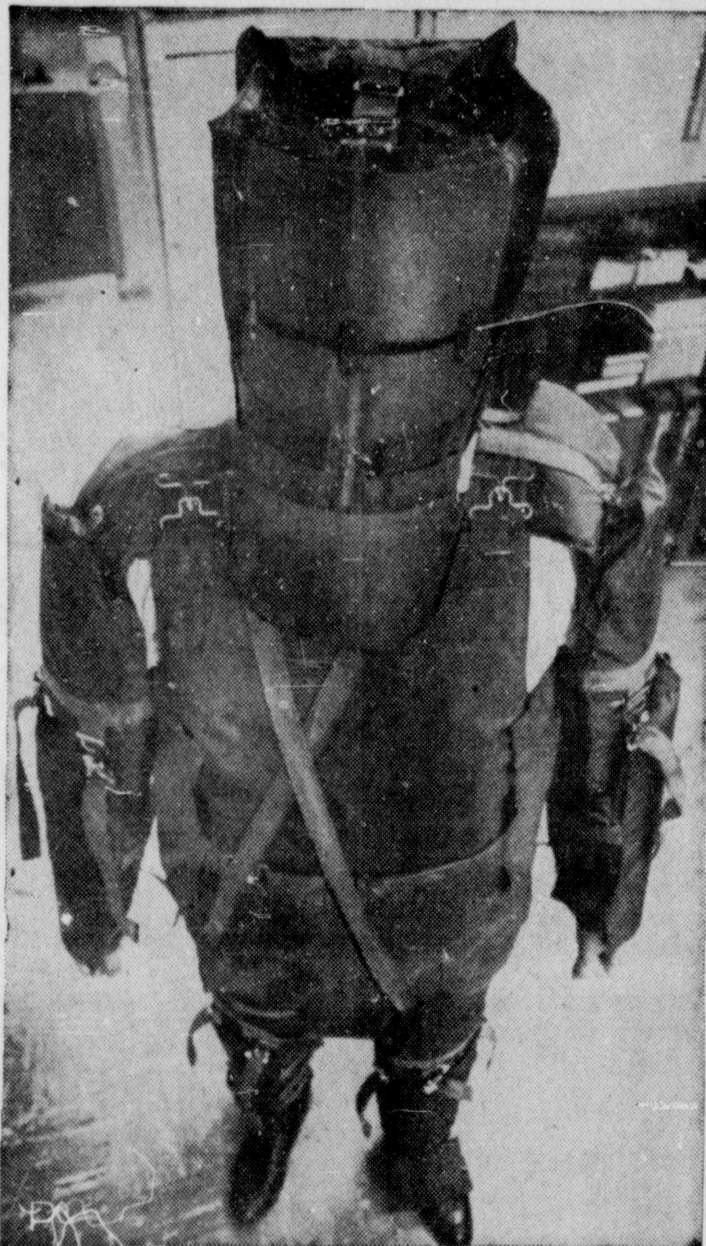

Hau Duc is one of the first and biggest refugee resettlement towns in the northernmost 1st Military Region. It has seven schools and a dispensary, making it the type of showcase "pacification" project that the Communist command ordinarily would like to disrupt.

The village is tightly organized. Normally, one-third of its people work in the fields, protected by another one-third who either are standing guard by the paddies or out on ambush.

The remaining one-third does common labor. They work on the new dispensary, help carry tin for the roofs, or clean up. But everyone works.

Jewish Holiday

JEWISH HOLIDAY INSIDE NEW YORK (AP) — Jews around the world celebrate Rosh Hashanah, the arrival of the Hebrew year 5731, beginning at sundown tonight. The 10 holy days of reflection and self-analysis end with Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement.

DRESSED FIT NOT TO BE KILLED — Patrolman Joey Winslow of the Minneapolis Police Department bomb squad models one of three new suits of armor purchased for the squad. These "mod" ensembles cost $590 each.

Yugoslav Plant Accord Involves Ford Motor Co.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — (AP) — Machine Industry Association of Yugoslavia and Ford Motor Co. of the United States are negotiating joint construction of a Yugoslav factory with annual capacity of 200,000 agricultural vehicles, according to the Yugoslav undersecretary of foreign trade.

Petar Tomic did not give further details. He spoke as he left Belgrade for Washington to discuss increasing Yugoslav textile exports to the U.S.

On April 16 Udruzena Metalna Industrija (IMI) of Belgrade said "certain agreement" had been reached with Ford on establishing a joint company to assemble Ford light industrial vehicles. UMI said then that it was planned that Ford would own 49 per cent of the assembly plant.

Solon Wants Closed-Door Meeting Rule

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Rep. Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, has asked Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley to rule on the legality of monthly closed-door business meetings held by the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

In a letter mailed to Kelley Tuesday, Faxon referred to a ruling by the attorney general in August 1969 on closed meetings held by the governing boards of institutions of higher learning.

At that time, Kelley ruled that when such a board meets in accordance with "the established rules for such a body for the transaction of business," it must convene in public.

"I have received information indicating that the practice of private meetings has not been discontinued by the University of Michigan Board of Regents," Faxon said in his letter. He asked Kelley to rule on a number of questions relating to the issue.

Faxon asked Kelley whether closed business meetings by the regents are legal and also questioned the legality of actions taken at closed meetings.

He also asked the attorney general to clarify the responsibility of governing boards to keep and make public minutes of their meetings.

Faxon also questioned the legality of telephone votes and any other method of transacting business other than a public meeting with a majority of the members present.

Finally, he asked Kelley what legal recourse is available to individuals who wish to gain access to meetings from which they currently are barred.

U-M President Robben Fleming defended closed meetings of the regents. "We've always acted on certain things privately and, to my knowledge, no one's ever complained."

Fleming said early disclosure of property purchase plans could have the effect of "jacking up the price," while faculty appointments and honorary degrees must be kept private "for obvious reasons."

"It's the old, old battle that's always gone on," Fleming said. "The press wants all meetings and information to be public, but there are some very serious problems with that."

Library Receives Reproductions Of Famous Paintings

Several new framed reproductions of famous paintings have been received by the library and may be rented by library patrons for 50 cents per month. The paintings are circulated by the Mid-Peninsula Library Federation in Iron Mountain and will be available for a four-month period.

The pictures include Dalí's "Basket of Bread," deHooch's "Interior with Soldiers," Marc's "Blue Horses," Renoir's "Moulin de la Galette," Utrillo's "Rue Venise," Walch's "The Cook," and Van Gogh's "Starry Night."

Births

KISRO — Mr. and Mrs. Duane Roy Kisro 528 E. McMillan St., Newberry, announce the birth of a baby girl weighing 4 lbs. 8 3/4 ounces, on Monday, Sept. 28 at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. The mother is the former Pamela Irene Fultz.

THE MANISTIQUE RIVER is a popular spot these days with fishermen flocking to an area just below the siphon bridge to reel in coho and steelheads. Good catches have been reported since the run began last Thursday. The city police are a little unhappy since the bridge area might be termed an "attractive nuisance" with automobiles parked on both sides of the bridge. They warn that bridge parking is illegal and ask that motorists leave their cars elsewhere. (Daily Press Photo)

The high school Drama Club will launch a magazine subscription campaign throughout Schoolcraft County on Monday, Oct. 12.

Team captains have been selected as follows: Lynne Brouillette, Freshmen; Gail Schwartz, Sophomores; Bernie Beaudry, Juniors and Debbie Main, Seniors.

Posters, candy treats, "the thing" in school color, inscribed with MHS and three-top salesmen's names engraved on drama plaque, are some of the bonus items offered plus the increase in the club treasury. The money earned will be used to purchase portable stage lights and to finance trips to see dramatic productions at NMU in Marquette and in Escanaba.

Seventy-five students are participating in the venture under the supervision of their club advisor, Mrs. Earl H. LeBrasseur.

Briefly Told

The MHS Class of 1961 meets Thursday at 8 p.m. in the conference room of the State Savings Bank.

Thursday's hot lunch menu in the Manistique Area Schools will include roast fresh ham with whipped potatoes and gravy, buttered corn, applesauce and beverage.

Doyle, Mueller and Manistique Township voters are reminded of tonight's Democratic Rally which will be held at the Doyle School at 8 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend and meet the candidates. Refreshments will be served.

Hospital

Admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital on Monday were Helen Chaperon and Colin Gould.

Discharged were Cora Gray, Isabelle Tholen, Earl Tufnell and Henry Walden.

ELECTRIC DRYER SALE

Permanent press clothes come out of an electric dryer ready to put right on, because electric dryers relax wrinkles.

What else makes the electric dryer the 2-to-1 choice of women? It costs less to buy, is economical to operate, and the few moving parts mean low maintenance. Another thing: with an electric dryer there's no flame, pilot, or flue.

Can you think of any better reasons to ask your appliance dealer about an electric clothes dryer?

Steel Companies Fear Affects Of Long GM Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Stewart Cort, president and chairman of Bethlehem Steel Corp., says if the United States Auto Workers' strike against General Motors lasts six weeks it will certainly put a crimp in fourth quarter earnings of steel and earnings even without a strike will not be very impressive.

The strike against General Motors in the United States and Canada is now in its 14th day and has idled 386,975. GM consumes a bit more than 10 per cent of the nation's steel output.

Cort's statement came at a news conference today. He was in Detroit to address the Economic Club of Detroit.

"If the strike lasts into November it will have a very serious effect on our operations," Cort told newsmen, adding that a long strike would "automatically involve layoffs in steel."

The steel industry has new contract negotiations coming up in August with the United Steel Workers, which, Cort said, already have something similar to the UAW's demand for retirement after 30 years' service regardless of age.

The UAW also is demanding from the auto industry restoration of an unlimited cost-of-living wage escalator which, Cort said the steel industry abandoned "several negotiations back."

Cort said the cost-of-living escalator in the steel industry did not solve the problem is set out to correct, protection against inflation, but conceded the formula had not been in force during the inflationary spiral of the late 1960.

Chrysler Joins Price Hike Plan

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced average price hikes for its 1971 model cars Tuesday of $104 or 3.7 per cent, giving it the lowest increase among Big Three automakers.

However, the nation's No. 3 automaker said its suggested manufacturer's retail price would have been $147 or 4.5 per cent if it had not slashed dealer profit margins on some models.

Chrysler joined General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. in leaving open the possibility of further price hikes for 1971 cars.

The automakers said increasing material and labor costs "could cause price revisions of all its 1971 cars."

'71 GM Cars Out; Shortage Feared

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. dealers throughout the country have expressed hope that the generally favorable reaction to 1971 model GM cars will faller when their supply of new cars runs dry as a result of the strike against the automotive giant.

Most of the new model GM cars went on sale Tuesday.

A Pontiac dealer in Chicago said opening day crowds were "exceptionally good, better than in 1970." But, he added, because the supply of new cars is limited to inventory, "another 15 customers and we're out of business."

John Dupla, who manages a Chevrolet dealership in Boston, said the new car market is "very good...the only problem is no cars."

Dupla said that "if the strike goes five or six weeks, a lot of dealers will be out of business."

A GM spokesman in Detroit said there were about 210,000 1971 model cars either in dealers' hands Tuesday or en route to them.

At the same time, many dealers still have 1970 models to sell, and to them, the scarcity of new model cars may offer short-term benefits. A Los Angeles Chevy dealer said, "We're really selling a lot of 1970 models. We're reaching new highs in selling current year models."

Dealers still have about 275,000 1970 models in stock, the company spokesman said, which, when combined with the inventory of 1971 cars, should last about six or seven weeks before stocks are depleted.

Second advantage of the new car scarcity, dealers say, is the opportunity it affords them to make better deals. "We can pick and choose who we want to sell and who will wait," one sales manager said.

All GM assembly lines have been shut down since the United Auto Workers struck the giant automaker at midnight Sept. 14. Bargaining between the company and the union on major national issues is reported stalled.

Industry observers say that even if there were an unexpectedly quick settlement of the strike, there could still be considerable disruption of new car supplies, since it would take time both to get plants back into full operation, to move cars to the dealers and to make up for the more than two weeks of production already lost.

In spite of the interest, in the cars, few dealers said they have written orders for cars pending settlement of the strike. Len Imbrie, president of a Buick dealership in Columbus, Ohio, said, "It is difficult to get people to part with $4,000 to $7,000 without any idea of when they will get what they paid for."

Another said, "When we tell persons they might have to wait until Dec. 1 or the first of the year to get a new car, they say

"forget it" and leave."

The shortage in new car prices has discouraged customer interest, according to many GM dealers. GM announced price increases averaging $300 per car for its 1971 models.

"I think people today are educated to the fact that they will experience price hikes every year," a Detroit Chevy dealer said.

A Chevy dealer in New York City similarly observed: "A lot of buyers were concerned with the increase we had to show them, but they expected it."

Red Division Wipe-Out Told

SAIGON (AP) — A top-ranking South Vietnamese field commander claimed today that his forces had virtually destroyed a North Vietnamese army division in three months of fighting around Fire Base O'Reilly in the northern sector of South Vietnam.

Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of the northern quadrant of South Vietnam, told newsmen in Da Nang that his forces, with support from American bombers, had wiped out the equivalent of two regiments from the North Vietnamese 204B Division.

The 204B Division which tried to take O'Reilly has been rendered almost ineffective," said Lam. "The enemy has conducted only sporadic shelling attacks in recent days. We are firmly in control and conditions are excellent."

Lam gave no casualty figures for either side.

Fire Base O'Reilly had been under artillery siege since late July, and American bombers flew hundreds of raids against North Vietnamese positions surrounding it.

On the battlefield of South Vietnam, the U.S. Command said activity increased slightly during the past 24 hours with five engagements in the northern sector, the central highlands and along the coastal plain. The command said 27 North Vietnamese troops and six Americans were killed and 13 Americans wounded in the five fights.

A U.S. Navy OV10 spotter aircraft and a U.S. Army helicopter were shot down in different parts of South Vietnam. Both crewmen aboard the OV10 bailed out and were rescued with minor injuries. The two crewmen aboard the helicopter were killed.

Pornography Group Eyes Repeal Of Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — Discounting fears that pornography corrupts either individual Americans or the nation's moral climate, a divided Presidential Commission on Pornography has called for repeal of most U.S. adult censorship laws.

The commission's report recommends state laws against exposing children to smut or putting it on public display — but no ban on written erotica in either case — and a mass sex education program partly to blunt the public's taste for perverted sex information.

The final report was kept under wraps for release this afternoon but a two-week-old copy still subject to revision was obtained by The Associated Press.

The finding that pornography does not cause sex crimes is modified, apparently at least in part because of statistics showing an increase in rape arrests since an increase in erotica in the United States.

But the report still says extensive investigation has "found no evidence to date that exposure to explicit sexual material plays a significant role in the causation of delinquent or criminal behavior among youth or adults."

And it says the powerful influences in the current flux in U.S. sexual values include ready availability of contraceptives, the changing American woman's role, increased education and mobility — not the increase in pornography.

Three dissenting commissioners accused the commission majority of manipulating evidence and proposing moral anarchy. They recommended stiffer anti-obscenity laws, prosecuting divisions in the Justice Department and state film censorship boards like Maryland's.

The recommendation for repeal of all 114 federal and state laws against importing, showing or selling erotica to adults was approved by 12 of the 18 commissioners.

They said censorship laws are so vague they are unevenly enforced and sometimes used against legitimate material and are rendered ineffective by a lack of public support.

Vote Reform Plan Stymied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has all but killed for this session of Congress a proposal for direct election of the president.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., a leader of the opposition, pronounced the measure dead after the failure Tuesday of a second effort to shut off debate and force the proposal to a vote.

But Indiana Democrat Birch Bayh, chief sponsor of the proposed constitutional amendment, said he still has hopes of winning the two-thirds majority necessary to put the Senate's debate-closing rule into effect.

In effect, the electoral reform issue will be allowed to simmer for a while. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, said it will still be before the Senate but other measures will be taken up from day to day.

Bayh did not object when Mansfield moved immediately after the rejection of the cloture move to bring up a military construction bill, saying he no longer would try to block action on other legislation.

But in talking with newsmen later, Bayh said he intends to try to get another vote on cloture — perhaps more than one — before the middle of October when the Senate is scheduled to adjourn or recess for the November elections.

The vote on cutting off debate was 53 for and 34 against, or five short of the necessary two-thirds majority. Thirty-four Democrats and 19 Republicans voted for cloture. Against were 15 Democrats and 19 Republicans.

Military Fund Measure Nears Final Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise $19.9-billion military purchasing bill, including funds for two more Safeguard antimissile sites and authority for unlimited aid to Israel, is headed for final consideration in the Senate.

The bill, which came out of a Senate-House conference last week, was approved 341 to 11 by the House Tuesday.

It is expected to win final approval in the Senate by week's end, despite a fight by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who claims the conference butchered money-saving features of the measure.

Proxmire, a frequent critic of waste in military spending, concedes there is little chance the Senate will restore restrictions struck by the conference. But he suggested some of the savings might be realized by making bigger-than-usual cuts in the pending military appropriations bill.

In separate action Tuesday the Senate approved, 73 to 0, a $1.68 billion military construction bill authorizing new building on military bases in the United States and overseas.

Andrew Nelson Dies Suddenly

Andrew O. Nelson, 66, of 517 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone, died suddenly early Tuesday evening upon arrival at St. Francis Hospital after suffering a heart attack.

He was born June 24, 1904 in Dexterville, Wis. and had been employed as a funeral director in Ladysmith, Wis. for several years. In later years he had been employed as a clerk for the Soo Line Railway, retiring three years ago. Mr. Nelson was a member of the Wisconsin Funeral Directors Association and the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

He is survived by his widow, the former Jeanne Fink; one son, Raymond L. Nelson and a stepson, Sgt. James A. Niks, serving with the U. S. Air Force in Vietnam; five grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Jacob (Inga) Bolset of Hawkins, Wis. and one brother, Nels Nelson of Hawkins.

The body has been removed to the Skradski Funeral Home and funeral arrangements are incomplete at this time.

Recreation Plans To Be Discussed By Council, Board

Escanaba's Recreation Board and the City Council will have an informal discussion meeting at about 8:30 p. m. Thursday after the Council session is completed at the Civic Center.

City Manager George Harvey, noting that the Recreation Board had requested the get-together, set up the meeting for a "mutual exchange of ideas."

Discussion will center on the overall recreational program, a subject of growing significance because of the nearing deadline for participating in state recreation bond funding.

Lord's Acre Sale Set For Oct. 10

The 1970 Lord's Acre Sale of the Congregational Church at Fayette will be held Saturday, Oct. 10, it is announced by the committee arranging the auction.

The traditional event, including the serving of a noon lunch to those attending, will begin at 11:30 a. m. and will be held at the Fairbanks Township Hall just south of Fayette State Park on County Road 483. The public is invited.

Feature of the sale will be a home-quilted bedcover in the Orchid Pattern, the work of women of the area in quilting bees; plus produce from farms and gardens, and some antiques.

Contributions to the sale will be welcomed and may be brought to the Town Hall at the time of the auction.

Briefly Told

Officials at the Escanaba Post office reported this morning that several sets of car keys have been found inside the building recently and owners may claim them at the Post Office.

Bernard Brodersen, Rte. 1 Bark River, reported to State Police that $10 worth of lumber had been stolen from his sawmill on County Road 815 in Ford River Township. Officers are still investigating the incident.

Jacob E. Obenhauer, 27, Gwinn, appeared in District Court Tuesday and pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his license was revoked. He was sentenced to 15 days in the Delta County Jail and ordered to pay a $50 fine and $50 costs.

John Kutha, 42, Rte. 2, Bark River, reported to State Police that he was involved in a car-deer accident at 10:15 Monday on County Road 569, just over three miles north of Ten-Mile Creek. Kutha told officers that the deer ran in front of the car and that he was unable to avoid it.

Marriage license applications have been taken out at the County Clerk's office by Alvin James Howes, Gladstone, and Margaret Carol Poquette, Hermansville; Walter Albert Schultz, Escanaba, and Karen Lee Lundin, 811 S. 19th St.; William Joseph Francis Boyce, 118 S. 12th St., and Mary Kathleen Buckbee, 512 Lake Shore Drive; George William Moore, Rapid River, and Maud Lavina Moss, Rapid River; Dennis Earl Murphy, Garden, and Janet Elaine Bouchard, Fayette.

The Havasupai Indian reservation, one of the smallest in the United States, covers five square miles, and fewer than 300 people live there. It lies beneath the rim of Grand Canyon.

Clothing Poor Children Bait For Squabble

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is locked in battle with an organization of welfare mothers over a new regulation limiting federal education aid to clothe poor children.

The militant National Welfare Rights Organization — NWRO — has appealed directly to Welfare Secretary Elliot L. Richardson for more clothing aid. He promised to answer early next week.

At issue is a Sept. 15 Office of Education directive freezing at a last year's level — three-tenths of one per cent of the total — clothing allowances from the $1.5 billion elementary school aid fund.

Most of the 16,500 school districts receiving aid for disadvantaged school children do not use any of the so-called Title I money for clothing programs. The new order, in effect, prohibits them from starting.

The freeze comes at a time when local NWRO chapters are pressing Title I districts without clothing provisions to include them.

Congress authorized the use of Title I money to buy clothing for poor children "where necessary."

Terrel H. Bell, acting commissioner of education took note of the new clothing demands in the Sept. 15 order, saying, "In a number of states project applications are being received involving greatly increased expenditure of Title I funds for clothing, which if approved, would jeopardize the basic nature of the Title I program. Title I is an education, not a welfare program."

Driver Ticketed After Accident

Peggy A. Hebert, 20, Rte. 3 Rapid River, received minor injuries and a ticket from the State Police because of a two-car mishap at 6:10 p. m. Monday on U. S. 2, two miles east of County Road J-1.

Officers said that she sought her own treatment for her injuries and that she was ticketed for making an improper left turn.

She was following a semi truck and started to make a left turn into her driveway when another vehicle, driven by Melvin LeClaire, 53, of Baraga, collided with her after trying to avoid the accident, officers said.

U.S. Commander In Vietnam Enters Hospital Again

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, was hospitalized tonight for the third time this year after collapsing in the arms of an aide.

The U.S. Command said the attending physician has prescribed medication and bed rest for Abrams "who has been ill for the past five days with a virus infection and a very slight lung inflammation."

"He is resting comfortably in the 3rd Field Hospital in Saigon," a spokesman said.

The 56-year-old Abrams suffered a "dizzy spell" shortly after noon during ceremonies honoring Australian army forces at Vung Tau, 40 miles southeast of Saigon. He was first taken to an Australian army hospital in Vung Tau then later flown to Saigon.

The four-star general was hospitalized for a week last January with pneumonia and again in July for removal of his gall bladder.

Vietnam Plane Crash Kills 28

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — An Air Vietnam passenger plane crashed in bad weather today while approaching Da Nang. Police sources said all 28 persons aboard were believed killed.

It was not known whether any of them were Americans.

The plane, a twin-engine DC3, crashed in the vicinity of the rugged Hai Van pass, 15 miles north of Da Nang in the northern part of North Vietnam, while on a flight from Pleiku to Hue.

Authorities said there was an in-flight emergency and that the plane was attempting a landing at Nha Trang Air Base, 200 miles northeast of Saigon, when it went down.

It was the first Air Vietnam plane crash since last Dec. 22 when a four-engine DC6 skidded off the runway at Nha Trang and slammed into a cluster of nearby houses, killing 32 persons.

Three Charged With Burglary Of Warehouse

Three Delela County young men are at liberty on bond for their appearance in District Court on charges of breaking and entering Bud's Beer & Wine warehouse at 2205 N. 19th St. on Sept. 24.

Arrested by city police following an investigation were John B. Wise, 17, of Wells; David W. St. Cyr, 18, and Daniel Hay, 17, both of Escanaba Rte. 2.

In District Court they requested appointment of an attorney to represent them and they were released on $500 bond each for their appearance later. Beer and wine were taken from the warehouse.

Escanaba police reported they have cleared the breaking and entering of Kobasic's Grocery in Escanaba with the arrest of a 15-year-old Escanaba boy, who was referred to juvenile court. A quantity of beer and wine was taken from the grocery.

Ratings Shakeup Puts Crusaders On Top Of Heap

The early season superiority among local football teams suffered a blow on the gridiron this past weekend, and was underlined in this week's high school football poll of U.P. sportswriters.

Last week's number one and number three teams were beaten Saturday, causing quite a bit of shuffling in this week's poll.

The Holy Name Crusaders gathered seven votes as the top team in the U.P., replacing rival Escanaba, who dropped down to seventh as a result of their loss to Kingsford.

The Wakefield Cardinals jumped two notches to second place, only 15 points back of Holy Name. Both Holy Name and Wakefield are unbeaten in four starts. The Cardinals have displayed the most potent offense thus far, scoring 133 points, while Holy Name has the stingiest defense, giving up only 6 points.

The Kingsford Flivvers replaced Gladstone as the number three team in this week's poll, hauling down two first place votes for a total of 88 points. The Flivvers jumped from ninth to third as a result of their stunning 24-7 upset of Escanaba. The Flivvers have another great opportunity to move up Friday night, as they will host the new number one team, Holy Name, in an important Great Northern Conference outing.

L'Anse, the second highest scoring outfit in the U.P., moved into fourth place, followed by the Marquette Redmen, West Iron County, Escanaba, Gladstone, Crystal Falls, and a tie for tenth between Engadine and DeTour.

Holy Name, Wakefield, Kingsford and West Iron County were the only teams to receive first place votes in this week's balloting.

Seven Golfers Beat The Champ

Seven golfers were able to "Beat the Champ" in the final men's Twilight League event for the season at the Highland Golf Club.

Jerry Magin, who is the 1970 club champion, shot a 57 Tuesday and then beating him were: Ben Smith, 2nd; Joe Hobert, 3rd; Ben Douglas, 4th; Earl Koch, 5th; Arnold Williams, 6th; Phil Norman, 7th; and Conny Neuk, 8th.

Prizes were also awarded to Twilight League winners. First place in the league went to the Holy Name with 11 1/2 points, while the Big Redmen were second with 10 1/2. Wertz's Wakefield, fourth with 10 1/2; Pusylova, fourth with 10 1/2; and the Mar-Strakes, fifth with 10 1/2 points.

Members of the championship team were Val Smith, Ron Koth, Bill Severinsen, Dave Hansen, Bill Denton and Don Pearson.

Awards were also given to the top scorers in the league and the top individual scores on each team. Ben Koth and John Barthelemy tied for the league honors, scoring 90 points during the year out of a possible 92.

Top individual scorers were Jack Smith, Mel Bertrand, Ernie Smith, Dave Prieto, Art Bows, Arnold Williams, Ray McDonald, Bill Morrow, Joe Hobert, Bill Deussette, Bud Stada, Dave Erickson, Bill Wanik, John Deuschamp, Lee Ruble, Ed Motte, Hank Polshak, John Kallman and Jim Schultz. Koth and Barthelemy also received prizes for being the top scorers on their respective teams.

Maroons Capture Gladstone Meet

The Maroon Maroons captured first place honors yesterday in the Gladstone Invitational cross-country at the Gladstone Golf Course. The Maroons finished with 22 points, outdistancing runner-up Ingham, who finished with 40 points.

Other teams competing in the meet in order of finish were: L'Anse, 58; Escanaba, 100; Marquette, 110; Marquette, 104; Gladstone, 170; Holy Name, 220; Tremont, 275; Purdus, 287; Eben, 300; Iron Mountain, 315.

Fred Teddy of L'Anse broke a meet record in covering the two and three mile courses in 11 minutes and 12 seconds. Following Teddy across the finish line were Ivan Piate of Marquette, Garion Mathison and Gary Santti of Ingham, Brian Francour and Bob Pieshak of Marquette, Maurice Hansen of Escanaba, Mike Harris of Marquette, Bob Polzin of Marquette, and Ingham's Steve Searl was tenth.

Linebacker Lucci Leads Football's Top Defense

DETROIT (AP) — He has an Italian name but looks like a Greek God.

He speaks with a calm sincerity but tackles like a two-legged tornado.

He is Mike Lucci. And he is the No. 1 man on the No. 1 defense in pro football—that of the Detroit Lions.

The 6-foot-6, 230-pound middle linebacker is the "quarterback" of the defensive unit which has given up just 254 yards total offense in two games—best in the business.

This is Lucci's ninth year in the National Football League and it looks as if the often underrated standout will finally be noticed since it appears the dawning Lions may finally be Super Bowl material.

The Lions are 5-4 so far, winning in convincing style 40-0 over Green Bay and 20-0 over Cincinnati. In the last four regular season games they have lost to 1960 Detroit has given up just two field goals—outscoring opponents 124-0.

Weekend total defense, the Lions stand No. 1 in passing yards, having allowed 120 yards or an average of 60 yards a game passing. They are second to Minnesota in rushing defense, having allowed 150 yards or an average of 75 a game.

Last year Detroit had the fifth best record in the 16-team National Football League with a 9-4-1 record. Last time the Lions were champions was in 1957 when they won the Western Division title after a playoff with San Francisco, then clobbered Cleveland 50-14 for the World's Championship.

Lucci has always been underrated, but he said, "We're starting to win now and I'm starting to get my share of publicity."

To watch him in action is almost as jarring an experience as being victim of one of his force tackles. He made one bone-cruncher Sunday that could be heard throughout Tiger Stadium and the 60,000 fans moaned in agony for the victim.

He was a standout against the Bengals yet didn't stand out. Detroit's defensive unit is so well balanced that no one man dominates a game.

"If you took all 11 out there I don't think there is one weak link," Lucci said.

But he diplomatically refused to call the Lions the best team in pro ball. "So many things contribute when you talk of best teams. We play a team defense. We work well together."

"The defense is close," he explained. "We have fun together. We ride each other. John around. Where you can still laugh and not be so tight, yet still think about the game—we have this."

Linebackers on either side of Lucci are veteran Wayne Walker and fourth-year man Paul Naumoff who is from Lucci's alma mater, Tennessee.

On the line are the rugged front-four of Alex Karras, Jerry Rush, Larry Hand and Joe Robb. In the secondary are Len Barney, Dick LeBeau, Tommy Vaughns and Mike Weger.

Barney, Karras and Walker have all been All-Pro selections, while LeBeau has played in three All-Pro games.

Lucci, 26, is a native of Ambridge, Pa., and spent one year at the University of Pittsburgh before going to Tennessee.

He praised Detroit's defensive prowess on chief defensive coach Jim David, former All-Pro defensive back with the Lions.

"He's an intense coach," Lucci said. "If anybody works harder I'd like to see who it is."

"You know when he gives you something it's going to work. He pushes us, but he doesn't push us more than he pushes himself."

Complementing the stern Detroit defense is a revitalized offense, sparked by a line that has come alive on blocking assignments.

BULLPEN ACES — Relievers Wayne Granger, Clay Carroll and Don Gullett (left to right) are a big reason why the Cincinnati Reds move into the National League playoff series Saturday against Pittsburgh. The trio has figured in a total of 78 of Cincinnati's club record 101 victories this year. They have 30 wins and 56 saves. (AP Wirephoto)

Theismann Honored As College Back Of Week

By The Associated Press

For some reason, people are reluctant to include Joe Theismann's name on the list of great Notre Dame quarterbacks.

But Theismann has already passed Johnny Lujack, Paul Hornung and John Harris in both passing yards and total offense and looks the season is over he should surpass Angelo Bertelli, Ralph Gagliardi and George Gipp, as well. Everyone, in fact, except Terry Hanratty.

Theismann took a giant stride toward destroying some more legends Saturday when he completed 18 of 24 passes for 276 yards and three touchdowns as Notre Dame trampled Purdue 48-0.

It was the second best passing day of Theismann's career — he had 294 yards against Michigan State last season and earned him Associated Press honor as National College Back of the Week.

It was sweet revenge for Theismann — a rhyme with Holmann, as in Trophy — who suffered through a subpar afternoon a year ago as Purdue whipped the Irish for the third straight time.

"Joe played extremely well," said Coach Ara Parseghian. "He had an exceptional day throwing. His leadership and direction of the team were flawless. Purdue does a fine job of using a multitude of defenses and Theismann was forced to audibline a great deal. He did an outstanding job of reading the defense and it takes a great quarterback to do that."

The rap heard most often about the 6-foot, 170-pound senior from South River, N.J., is that he's too small. Answers Parseghian:

"Don't ever underestimate Joe. He can pass, he can run, he's a scrambler and he shows great leadership on the field. He's a winner. And don't let his size fool you. I know several other quarterbacks who don't have great size, such as Unitas and Dawson.

"He can recognize defenses and he knows how to attack them. He's unpredictable — he'll gamble — and this can be a little disconcerting to an opponent. In short, he can do it all. Just look at his record."

The record shows that Theismann took over for the injured Hanratty with three games remaining in 1968 and in the 16 games he's started since then Notre Dame has won 12, lost two and tied two.

In winning Back of the Week honors, Theismann edged out quarterbacks Pat Sullivan of Auburn, Joe Spagnola of Arizona State and Jim Plunkett of Stanford; running back Fred Henry of New Mexico; flanker Dick Graham of Oklahoma State and defensive back Joe Bullard of Tulane.

Pirates, Orioles Win; Reds, Twins Defeated

By The Associated Press

Rockie Milt May kept the newly crowned National League East champion Pittsburgh Pirates sailing, while Bill Rigney got more punch in the Minnesota Twins' offense by platooning his platooners, but still came up short — by an extra point.

May keyed Pittsburgh's 7-2 victory over Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night, drilling a two-run pinch double that snapped a 1-1 tie in a four-run Pirates' eighth inning.

May, a rookie catcher recently recalled from the Pirates' Columbus farm club, helped send Gibson to a seventh loss with his double, but the veteran right hander snapped a club strikeout mark.

Gibson now has 274 strikeouts for the season, erasing his own record of 270.

Rigney's Twins wasted a 27-man man effort when they bowed to the Kansas City Royals 14-13 on a run-scoring single in the 12th inning by relief pitcher Ted Abernathy.

The Royals pressed 22 players into action as the two clubs set an all-time manpower mark.

The previous record of 48 was set by the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs in a 1956 game.

The Baltimore Orioles, who take on the Twins Saturday in the opener of the American League pennant playoffs, swept a doubleheader from the Washington Senators, 3-2 in 10 innings and 3-2 in 11.

Meanwhile, Boston overcame the New York Yankees 5-4, Cleveland trimmed Detroit 5-3, California pounded the Chicago White Sox 9-3 and Oakland edged Milwaukee 4-3.

In the National League, the New York Mets topped the Chicago Cubs 3-1. Montreal routed Philadelphia 10-3, Atlanta shaded Cincinnati 2-1, Houston defeated San Francisco 3-1 and Los Angeles crushed San Diego 6-2.

Mark Belanger's sacrifice fly in the 10th inning of the opener and Frank Robinson's pinch double in the 11th of the nightcap delivered the winning runs for the Orioles, who have won nine consecutive games, five of them in overtime.

Mike Cassler worked eight innings in the opener in a final tuneup for the Orioles' starting assignment against Jim Perry and the Twins at Minnesota Saturday.

Carl Yastrzemski's third hit, a run-scoring single in the ninth, capped a three-run Boston comeback and hiked his league leading average to .328.

Luke Walker, Pittsburgh curveballing lefty, went the first six innings, allowing one run in his final tune-up before the best-of-five playoff opens in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Mike McQueen, a rookie left-hander, stopped Cincinnati on seven hits for his first major league triumph and his first complete game. He also blooped a hit, driving in the Braves' first run in a two-run seventh.

Colored Skates Next In Hockey

MONTREAL (AP) — Four National Hockey League clubs will start the 1970-71 season wearing colored skates, while a fifth likely will swing to the innovation by Christmas, it was announced Tuesday.

The Los Angeles Kings, Oakland Seals, Pittsburgh Penguins and St. Louis Blues will pioneer the color scheme for skates in the NHL, with Detroit Red Wings slated to swing to color later this season.

The NHL recently ruled that colored skates were permissible, providing all members of a team agreed to wear them.

El Toro Sailors Receive Trophies

Trophies were presented Saturday night at the annual banquet for the Escanaba Yacht Club El Toro Sailors.

The Escanaba Yacht Club each year sponsors free sailing lessons and competition for the youngsters from the ages of 7 to 14. The beginner, as well as the advanced sailor, is given training in the techniques of sailboat handling, survival and the tactics of sailboat racing.

The youngsters are trained in an eight-foot dinghy known as the "El Toro." This small dinghy is actively raced throughout the United States by more than 8,000 competitors.

This year's trophy winners were as follows:

Beginners Class—Van Brunsel Trophy: 1st, John Anthony; 2nd, Robert Goodness; 3rd, Robert Beauchamp.

Advanced Class—Escanaba Yacht Club Trophy: 1st, Bill Taylor; 2nd, Lynn Zimmerman; 3rd, Chris Shipman.

Coleman Nee Trophy—1st, Dean Shipman, Jr.; 2nd, Bill Taylor; 3rd, Chris Shipman.

State Bank Trophy — 1st, Dean Shipman, Jr.; 2nd, Bill Taylor; 3rd, Chris Shipman.

Dean Shipman Jr. won the overall Sailor of the Year trophy with 54.7 points, followed by Bill Taylor with 57.1 points and John Anthony 3rd with 64 points. In racing, the winner is determined by low score.

On the field it's cleats.

After the game it's Pedwin Shoes.

You're a Pedwinner with this high-scoring boot look — the squared front, the strap and brassy buckle, the zipper-up-the-side. Pedwin's NFL Collection includes rugged grains and smooth leather's and new colors geared to the shape of today's clothes. Take your choice and try on a pair.

Other teams receiving votes included Norway, Ironwood, Negaunee, Iron Mountain, Munising and Menominee. All 11 member papers and association secretary Gene Maki of Wakefield participated in this week's poll.

Seven Golfers Beat The Champ

Seven golfers were able to "Beat the Champ" in the final men's Twilight League event for the season at the Highland Golf Club.

Jerry Martin, who is the 1970 club champion, shot a 37 Tuesday and those beating him were: Ron Koth, net 36; Joe Hebert, net 34; Ben Douglas, net 35; Earl Koch, net 36; Arnold Williams, net 36; Phil Norman, net 36; Cooney Nault, net 36.

Prizes were also awarded to Twilight League winners. First place in the league went to the Has Beens with 111½ points, while the Big Stickers were second with 108½, Wertz's Watusis, third with 104; Pusyfoots, fourth with 103½; and the Mor-Strokes, fifth with 103 points.

Members of the championship team were Vial Smith, Ron Koth, Bill Severinsen, Dave Mason, Bill Denton and Don Pearson.

Awards were also given to the top scorers in the league and the top individual scorers on each team. Ron Koth and John Baribeau tied for the league honors, scoring 26 points during the year out of a possible 32.

Top individual scorers were Jack Smith, Mel Bertrand, Ernie Flath, Dave Friets, Art Bowe, Arnold Williams, Ray McDonald, Bill Morrow, Joe Hebert, Bill Doucette, Bud Stade, Dave Erickson, Bill Wanic, John Beauchamp, Lee Rublein, Ed Motto, Hank Polishak, John Kallman and Jim Schultz. Koth and Baribeau also received prizes for being the top scorers on their respective teams.

Maroons Capture Gladstone Meet

The Menominee Maroons captured first place honors yesterday in the Gladstone Invitational cross-country at the Gladstone Golf Course. The Maroons finished with 32 points, outdistancing runnerup Ishpeming, who finished with 49 points.

Other teams competing in the meet in order of finish were: L'Anse, 53; Escanaba, 108; Marquette, 116; Marinette, 164; Gladstone, 179; Holy Name, 238; Trenary, 275; Perkins, 297; Eben, 309; Iron Mountain, 318.

Fred Teddy of L'Anse broke a meet record in covering the two and three tenth mile course in 11 minutes and 12 seconds. Following Teddy across the finish line were Ivan Plude of Menominee, Garlan Mattson and Gary Santti of Ishpeming, Brian Francour and Bob Pleshek of Menominee, Maurice Simons of Escanaba, Mike Barris of Menominee, Bob Polzin of Marquette, and Ishpeming's Steve Saari was tenth.

He speaks with a calm sincerity but tackles like a two-legged tornado.

He is Mike Lucci. And he is the No. 1 man on the No. 1 defense in pro football—that of the Detroit Lions.

The 6-foot-2, 230-pound middle linebacker is the "quarterback" of the defensive unit which has given up just 254 yards total offense in two games—best in the business.

This is Lucci's ninth year in the National Football League and it looks as if the often underrated standout will finally be noticed since it appears the dawning Lions may finally be Superbowl material.

The Lions are 2-0 so far, winning in convincing style 40-0 over Green Bay and 38-3 over Cincinnati. In the last four regular season games dating back to 1969 Detroit has given up just two field goals—outscored opponents 126-6.

Besides total defense, the Lions stand No. 1 in passing defense, having allowed 128 yards or an average of 64 yards a game passing. They are second to Minnesota in rushing defense, having allowed 126 yards or an average of 63 a game.

Last year Detroit had the fifth best record in the 16-team National Football League with a 9-4-1 record. Last time the Lions were champions was in 1957 when they won the Western Division title after a playoff with San Francisco, then clobbered Cleveland 59-14 for the World's Championship.

Lucci has always been underrated, but he said, "We're starting to win now and I'm starting to get my share of publicity."

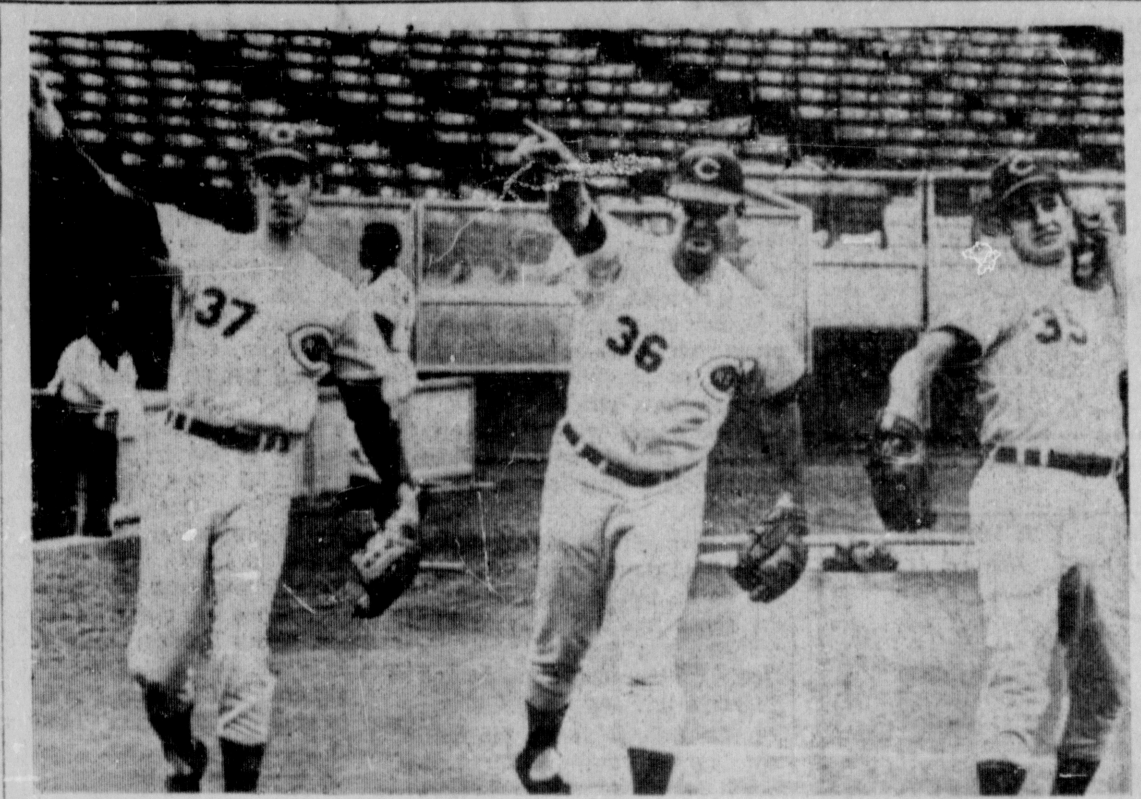

To watch him in action is almost as jarring an experience as being victim of one of his fierce tackles. He made one bone-cruncher Sunday that could be heard throughout Tiger Stadium and the 58,000 fans moaned in agony for the victim.

He was a standout against the Bengals yet didn't stand out. Detroit's defensive unit is so well balanced that no one man dominates a game.

"If you took all 11 out there I don't think there is one weak link," Lucci said.

But he diplomatically refused to call the Lions the best team in pro ball: "So many things contribute when you talk of best teams. We play a team defense. We work well together."

"The defense is close," he explained. "We have fun together. We ride each other. Joke around. Where you can still

Theismann Honored As College Back Of Week

By The Associated Press

For some reason, people are reluctant to include Joe Theismann's name on the list of great Notre Dame quarterbacks.

But Theismann has already passed Johnny Lujack, Paul Hornung and John Huarte in both passing yardage and total offense and before the season is over he should surpass Angelo Bartelli, Ralph Gaglielmi and George Gipp, as well. Everyone, in fact, except Terry Hanratty.

Theismann took a giant stride toward destroying some more legends Saturday when he completed 16 of 24 passes for 276 yards and three touchdowns as Notre Dame trampled Purdue 48-0. It was the second best passing day of Theismann's career — he had 294 yards against Michigan State last season — and earned him Associated Press honors as National College Back of the Week.

It was sweet revenge for Theismann — rhymes with Heisman, as in Trophy — who suffered through a subpar afternoon a year ago as Purdue whipped the Irish for the third straight time.

"Joe played extremely well," said Coach Ara Parseghian. "He had an exceptional day throwing. His leadership and direction of the team were flawless. Purdue does a fine job of using a multitude of defenses and Theismann was forced to audibilize a great deal. He did an outstanding job of reading the defense and it takes a great quarterback to do that."

The rap heard most often about the 6-foot, 170-pound senior from South River, N.J., is that he's too small. Answers Parseghian:

"Don't ever underestimate Joe. He can pass, he can run, he's a scrambler and he shows great leadership on the field. He's a winner. And don't let his size fool you. I know several other quarterbacks who don't have great size, such as Unitas and Dawson."

"He can recognize defenses and he knows how to attack them. He's unpredictable — he'll gamble — and this can be a little disconcerting to an opponent. In short, he can do it all. Just look at his record."

The record shows that Theismann took over for the injured Hanratty with three games remaining in 1968 and in the 16 games he's started since then Notre Dame has won 12, lost two and tied two.

In winning Back of the Week honors, Theismann edged out quarterbacks Pat Sullivan of Auburn, Joe Spagnola of Arizona State and Jim Plunkett of Stanford; running back Fred Henry of New Mexico; flanker Dick Graham of Oklahoma State and defensive back Joe Bullard of Tulane.

Pirates, Orioles Win; Reds, Twins Defeated

By The Associated Press

Rookie Milt May kept the newly crowned National League East champion Pittsburgh Pirates sizzling, while Bill Rigney got more punch in the Minnesota Twins' offense by platooning his platooners, but still came up short — by an extra point.

May keyed Pittsburgh's 7-2 victory over Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night, drilling a two-run pinch double that snapped a 1-1 tie in a four-run Pirates' eighth inning.

May, a rookie catcher recently recalled from the Pirates' Columbus farm club, helped send Gibson to a seventh loss with his double, but the veteran right hander snapped a club strikeout mark.

Gibson now has 274 strikeouts for the season, erasing his own record of 270.

Rigney's Twins wasted a 2-1 lead when they bowed to the Kansas City Royals 14-13 on a run-scoring single in the 12th inning by relief pitcher Ted Abernathy.

The Royals pressed 22 players into action as the two clubs set an all-time manpower mark.

The previous record of 48 was set by the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs in a 1956 game.

The Baltimore Orioles, who take on the Twins Saturday in the opener of the American League pennant playoffs, swept a doubleheader from the Washington Senators, 3-2 in 10 innings and 3-2 in 11.

Meanwhile, Boston overcame the New York Yankees 5-4, Cleveland trimmed Detroit 5-2, California pounded the Chicago White Sox 9-2 and Oakland edged Milwaukee 4-3.

In the National League, the New York Mets topped the Chicago Cubs 3-1, Montreal routed Philadelphia 10-3, Atlanta shaded Cincinnati 2-1, Houston defeated San Francisco 3-1 and Los Angeles crushed San Diego 8-2.

Mark Belanger's sacrifice fly in the 10th inning of the opener and Frank Robinson's pinch double in the 11th of the nightcap delivered the winning run for the Orioles, who have won nine consecutive games, five of them in overtime.

Mike Cuellar worked eight innings in the opener in a final tuneup for the Orioles' starting assignment against Jim Perry and the Twins at Minnesota Saturday.

Carl Yastrzemski's third hit, a run-scoring single in the ninth, capped a three-run Boston comeback and hiked his league leading average to .329.

Luke Walker, Pittsburgh curveballing lefty, went the first six innings, allowing one run in his final tune-up before the best-of-five playoff opens in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Mike McQueen, a rookie left-hander, stopped Cincinnati on seven hits for his first major league triumph and his first complete game. He also blooped a hit, driving in the Braves' first run in a two-run seventh.

Colored Skates Next In Hockey

MONTREAL (AP) — Four National Hockey League clubs will start the 1970-71 season wearing colored skates, while a fifth likely will swing to the innovation by Christmas, it was announced Tuesday.

The Los Angeles Kings, Oakland Seals, Pittsburgh Penguins and St. Louis Blues will pioneer the color scheme for skates in the NHL, with Detroit Red Wings slated to swing to color later this season.

The NHL recently ruled that colored skates were permissible, providing all members of a team agreed to wear them.

El Toro Sailors Receive Trophies

Trophies were presented Saturday night at the annual banquet for the Escanaba Yacht Club El Toro Sailors.

The Escanaba Yacht Club each year sponsors free sailing lessons and competition for the youngsters from the ages of 7 to 14. The beginner, as well as the advanced sailor, is given training in the techniques of sailboat handling, survival and the tactics of sailboat racing.

The youngsters are trained in an eight-foot dinghy known as the "El Toro." This small dinghy is actively raced throughout the United States by more than 8,000 competitors.

This year's trophy winners were as follows:

Beginners Class—Van Bruseel Trophy: 1st, John Anthony; 2nd, Robert Goodreau; 3rd, Roberta Beauchamp.

Advanced Class—Escanaba Yacht Club Trophy: 1st, Bill Taylor; 2nd, Lynn Zimmerman; 3rd, Chris Shipman.

Coleman Nee Trophy—1st, Dean Shipman, Jr.; 2nd, Bill Taylor; 3rd, Chris Shipman.

State Bank Trophy — 1st, Dean Shipman, Jr.; 2nd, Bill Taylor; 3rd, Chris Shipman.

Dean Shipman Jr. won the overall Sailor of the Year trophy with 54.7 points, followed by Bill Taylor with 57.1 points and John Anthony 3rd with 64 points. In racing, the winner is determined by low score.

Rangers Upend Red Wings 4-3

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP) — Syl Apps' second goal of the game broke a third-period deadlock to give the New York Rangers a 4-3 exhibition victory over the Detroit Red Wings Tuesday night.

Apps' first goal early in the first period gave New York a 1-0 lead, but Detroit tied it up a few minutes later when Frank Mahavolich netted the first of his two goals.

The game remained tied going into the final 20 minutes after second-period goals by Rangers Dick Hadfield and Larry Brown, and Red Wings Mahavolich and Gordie Howe.

Pistons Beaten

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bulls scored their fifth victory in six exhibition starts Tuesday night with a 113-96 victory over the Detroit Pistons.

Chet Walker led the Bulls with 25 points while Jim Walker was high for Detroit with 21.

Tigers Lose Again; Move Closer To 5th

DETROIT (AP) — After a nearly three year wait, Cleveland manager Al Dark has finally seen pitcher Steve Niekirk hit stride.

Dark left the game in the eighth when reliever Daryl Patterson hit him with a pitch on the batting helmet at his forehead.

The Tigers picked up a run in the bottom of the inning on a walk to Dick McAuliffe and double by Norm Cash.

Larry Brown's ground out sent home an Indian run in the fourth and Brown also hit a sacrifice fly in the two run sixth for another. Graig Nettles also singled in a run.

A sacrifice fly by Jim Northrup produced the Tigers' final run in the third.

Dark's first win since 1967, the Tigers' first since 1967, the Tigers' first since 1967.

Tiger Tales

By The Associated Press
Grover Krasinger says Detroit has been good to him, but Thursday will be his last as a coach with the Tigers.

"I like Detroit and they treated me first class here," he said, "but I just have to spend more time on my farm."

The popular third-base coach has been with the Tigers two seasons after a coaching term with the Chicago White Sox. He has a farm in Missouri.

Dick McAuliffe played shortstop Tuesday night for Detroit in place of Cesar Geronimo who fouled a ball off his leg on the road trip. Manager Mayo Smith said McAuliffe would play short today and Thursday if Cesar's leg is still sore.

Smith thinks it'll be the Baltimore Orioles vs. the Pittsburgh Pirates in the World Series. The Orioles must first face the Minnesota Twins while the Pirates meet the Cincinnati Reds in divisional playoffs.

"I pick Pittsburgh over Cincinnati because the Pirates have been playing well the last two weeks," Smith said. "They won the pressure games. Cincinnati beat them in the season but hasn't played as well since the All-Star break."

Detroit's finish under .500 this season will mark the first time since 1963 the Tigers have been below that level. They were 79-53 then. Now they are 77-53.

Elliott Returns To Wolverines

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan defensive halfback Bruce Elliott worked out with the team Tuesday for the first time in three weeks and may be ready to play against Texas A&M at Michigan Stadium Saturday.

Elliott, who suffered a shoulder separation in Michigan's final preseason scrimmage, missed the team's first two games. He is not participating in contact drills this week, but he has complete mobility and is in good shape, according to Coach Bo Schembechler.

Defensive end Al Carpenter left the field early Tuesday, after injuring his knee. The extent of the injury was not immediately known.

Center Orderis Mitchell of Elkhart, Ind., and defensive end Eugene Ogilvie of San Jose, Calif., who will be sophomores on the Air Force Academy football squad, both carry the nickname, "Big O."

Tigers Lose Again; Move Closer To 5th

DETROIT (AP) — After a nearly three year wait Cleveland manager Al Dark has finally seen pitcher Steve Hargan hit stride.

Detroit manager Mayo Smith, meanwhile, may never have the chance to see pitcher Mickey Lolich regain stride.

If the persistent and loud rumors are true, Thursday will be Smith's last day as a Tiger manager.

Lolich didn't aid Mayo's agonizing final days of the 1970 season as he lost his 19th game—the same number he won last year—as the Indians beat the Tigers 5-2 Tuesday night behind Hargan's pitching.

If the Indians sweep the final two games they will finish fourth in the American League East and drop Detroit to fifth. When someone asked Dark if he would break out the champagne in that case he laughed.

Hargan, meanwhile, was having an ice pack routinely bandaged to his right shoulder after he scattered seven hits in his complete game performance which upped his record to 11-3. He is 10-1 since after the All-Star break when he returned from a five-week stay at Cleveland's Wichita farm club. Before that he was on the 21-day disabled list with arm trouble.

MISSED 71 GAMES

DETROIT (P)—When Detroit pitcher Denny McLain was suspended for the first 86 days of the 1970 season for consorting with a bookmaking ring in Michigan he missed the Tigers first 71 games.

The Tigers without him compiled a 38-33 won-lost record and were third, seven games behind leading Baltimore. McLain returned July 1 and pitched against the New York Yankees.

McLain went less than six innings and trailed when he left the game. However, the Tigers beat the Yankees 6-5.
